RANDOM RANTS, RAVES & THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW

"Scamanda" Gets New Airdate

There was a lot of hype surrounding this docuseries, as it was part of ABC's original fall lineup. Based on the hit podcast of the same name, the docuseries tells the story of Amanda Riley — a wife, mother, blogger and Christian — whose tragic cancer tale captivated thousands. But Amanda had a secret that she was dying to keep, and after an anonymous tip to an investigator, her own words proved to be her downfall. The series, Scamanda, is finally set to air on ABC beginning Thursday, Jan. 30.

New Edition Of "Hollywood Squares"

The game show classic Hollywood Squares returns to our lineups beginning Thursday, Jan. 9 at 8pm ET/PT on CBS, and then it will move to its new time slot of Wednesdays at 10pm ET/PT beginning Jan. 29. Some of the stars confirmed to be joining host Nate Burleson and Drew Barrymore (in the center square) will be Tyra Banks, Julie Bowen, Yvette Nicole Brown, Whitney Cummings, Tiffany Haddish, Pete Holmes, Gabriel Iglesias, Jo Koy, Jay Leno, Kevin Nealon, RuPaul and Triumph the Insult Comic Dog, among others.

"Deal Or No Deal Island" Features Some Reality Legends

Joe Manganiello returns as host and the Banker's ultimate game master for the second season of Deal or No Deal Island (beginning Jan. 7 on NBC), a cross between the famed game show and Survivor-like competition. In each episode, players compete in daring challenges to secure the briefcases that are used in that night's game of Deal or No Deal. The player who snags the highest-value case gains immunity and gets to choose a fellow player to play a classic game of Deal or No Deal. If the player makes a bad deal, they are immediately eliminated. If the player makes a good deal, the power is in their hands and they get to choose

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY!

70 YEARS AGO

Notable TV series, episodes, networks and/or events marking anniversaries this month.

By Jeff Pfeiffer

THE BOB CUMMINGS SHOW

After using the professional name of Robert Cummings in earlier big-screen features, the actor began going by Bob around the time he led this sitcom. Also featuring Ann B. Davis, it ran from Jan. 2, 1955-July 7, 1959, on NBC and CBS, and was known later in reruns as Love That Bob.

THE BENNY HILL SHOW

Hill's sketch comedy show, which often famously ended with a sped-up sequence accompanied by "Yakety Sax," aired on Britain's BBC and ITV networks from Jan. 15, 1955-May 1, 1989, and started gaining an American following in the late '70s.

who gets eliminated. Among the 14 islanders contending for unprecedented winnings are Survivor's Parvati Shallow, Big Brother's Dr. Will Kirby and Survivor Australia's David Genat.

Are TV Episodes Getting Shorter?

We recently fielded an online question from a TV viewer noticing that Georgie & Mandy's First Marriage is only 21 minutes without commercials, and they asked how much longer before a 30-minute sitcom is 50% commercials. The commercial load has increased over the years for some shows, especially with financially challenging times. When it comes to premium cable and some streaming shows, you'll see those shows are actually getting longer — Dune: Prophecy episodes tend to clock in at over an hour. We applaud shows these days that don't exhaust us with overlength, believing that less can be more in the right hands.

Congratulations!

Our November Reader Rewards winners of the Yellowstone: The Complete Story magazine were Scott Butler, Christopher Litchfield and Arlene Nitsche.

55 YEARS AGO

OZARK JUBILEE

This weekly live stage show featured big-name guests like Patsy Cline and Johnny Cash alongside regular performers, including future stars like Brenda Lee and Porter Wagoner. The series, which later went under the titles of Country Music Jubilee and Jubilee USA, ran from Jan. 22, 1955-Sept. 24, 1960, on ABC.

ALL MY CHILDREN

Creator Agnes Nixon's soap opera set in the fictional town of Pine Valley, Pennsylvania, was a staple of ABC's daytime lineup from Jan. 5, 1970-Sept. 23, 2011, and was briefly revived online in 2013.

50 YEARS AGO

BARETTA

Robert Blake won an Emmy as unorthodox plainclothes detective Tony Baretta, a master of disguise who famously shared his apartment with a cockatoo named Fred, in this classic crime drama that ran from Jan. 17, 1975-May 18, 1978, on ABC.

BARNEY MILLER

This beloved sitcom set in an NYPD police station aired on ABC from Jan. 23, 1975-May 20, 1982, during which time it won an Emmy for Outstanding Comedy Series and racked up nominations for stars Hal Linden, Ron Glass, Steve Landesberg, Max Gail and Abe Vigoda.

THE JEFFERSONS

On Jan. 18, 1975, a week after the Jefferson family said farewell to Queens and their neighbors the Bunkers in All in the Family, George (Sherman Hemsley), Louise (Isabel Sanford) and Lionel (Mike Evans) moved on up into their own sitcom, which continued on CBS until July 2, 1985.

Nikki Glaser

GOLDEN GLOBES

MOVE TO CBS

By Jeff Pfeiffer

When the 82nd Annual Golden Globe Awards air live on CBS on Sunday, Jan. 5, it marks the beginning of the network's five-year deal to air the ceremony, the first major awards show of the season, which had long aired on NBC.

Comedian/actress Nikki Glaser will be hosting this year's Golden Globes.

"It's one of my favorite nights of television," Glaser says, "and now I get a front-row seat (actually, I think I have to host from the stage).

"Some of my favorite jokes of all time have come from past Golden Globes opening monologues when [previous hosts] Tina [Fey], Amy [Poehler] or Ricky [Gervais] have said what we all didn't know we desperately needed to hear. … This is truly a dream job. Plus, I no longer have to feel guilty for every TV show and movie I've binged over the past year. It was all worth it. (Below Deck Sailing Yacht Season 4 will be nominated, right?)."

The answer to Glaser's question wasn't known at this writing; nominations for this year's Globes had not yet been announced. We do know that Viola Davis will be honored with the Cecil B. DeMille Award, which was first created in 1952 and has been bestowed on some of Hollywood's greatest talents.

5 QUESTIONS WITH DAVE COULIER

By Gerry Strauss

When Dave Coulier brought his signature style of zany comedy to his role as Joey Gladstone on the iconic family sitcom Full House, he quickly went from comedy's best-kept secret to TV megastar. For eight seasons, Coulier brought silliness, cartoon character impressions and a whole lot of heart to the Tanner household, and he brought all of that magic back for another go-around with his TV family during five seasons of Netflix's Fuller House. Coulier recently went public with being diagnosed with Stage 3 non-Hodgkin B-cell lymphoma, and he is now sharing his journey with his fans on his Full House Rewind podcast. We caught up with him prior to his diagnosis where we learned even more about the good ol' days.

1 What were some of your favorite TV shows and movies growing up? My favorite movie when I was a little kid was definitely The Wizard of Oz. ... My favorite TV shows were The Munsters, Addams Family, Gilligan's Island, McHale's Navy, Get Smart. I loved all of those shows. And then after school was The Little Rascals and The Three Stooges. In animation, I loved The Jetsons. I loved Scooby-Doo, I loved The Flintstones.

2 Who was your celebrity crush as a teen? People always said, are you a Ginger or a Mary Ann? And I was always a Mary Ann from Gilligan's Island. That and Barbara Eden when she was Jeannie on I Dream of Jeannie. I had the biggest crush on her. It was like when you have a crush on your teacher — this beautiful older lady — and she wears a genie costume.

3 Tell us about a time when you got in trouble as a kid. My mom used to tell this story about how horrified she was when I got sent home my first day of kindergarten.

4 What was the first concert that you attended? First concert I went to, and this sounds so cheesy, was Captain & Tennille. And it was only because I worked at a radio station. The day I graduated from high school, I got hired at a radio station here in Detroit. It was called WABX, and it was this progressive rock station, and they used to get free tickets. Well, no one at the station wanted to go to Captain & Tennille because they weren't a rock band. And I was like, "Free tickets, I'll take it!" And they were front row and you could bring coolers. It was a different time. This is the late 1970s, and I had four tickets, so I invited three of my buddies and we brought a cooler full of beer and sat in the front row. We were too loud during "Muskrat Love," I think, and they kicked us out. So I got kicked out of my first concert.

5 What's something that you have saved from your childhood? I have an old hockey jersey that I wore when I was a little kid, and I just love this jersey so much that I just kept it. It's hanging on a hanger in a closet at my house.

The Kansas City Chiefs Have NFL History In Sight. By Ryan A. Berenz

Kansas City Chiefs quarterback Patrick Mahomes has three Super Bowl MVP awards

Winning a Super Bowl is hard. Winning two straight is really hard. Winning three in a row? It hasn't been done ... yet.

The two-time defending champion Kansas City Chiefs, led by head coach Andy Reid and quarterback Patrick Mahomes, are the first team since the 2003 New England Patriots to attempt a threepeat in the NFL's Super Bowl era.

As unbeatable as the Chiefs have appeared this season, the playoffs have a tendency to trip up the mightiest of giants. Take a look at the previous repeat champs who discovered the third time's no charm:

Green Bay Packers (1966-67) In '68: Finished 6-7-1, missed playoffs.

Miami Dolphins (1972-73) In '74: Lost divisional playoff 28-26 to Oakland Raiders.

Pittsburgh Steelers (1974-75) In '76: Lost AFC championship game 24-7 to Raiders.

Pittsburgh Steelers (1978-79) In '80: Finished 9-7, missed playoffs.

San Francisco 49ers (1988-89) In '90: Lost NFC championship game 15-13 to N.Y. Giants.

Dallas Cowboys (1992-93) In '94: Lost NFC championship game 38-28 to 49ers.

Denver Broncos (1997-98) In '99: Finished 6-10, missed playoffs.

New England Patriots (2003-04) In '05: Lost divisional playoff 27-13 to Broncos.

The NFL regular season concludes with Week 18 games Saturday, Jan. 4 (ABC/ESPN), and Sunday, Jan. 5 (CBS, FOX and NBC). Super Wild Card Weekend is Jan. 11-13 (ABC/ESPN, CBS, FOX, NBC and Prime Video), followed by the divisional round Jan. 18-19 (ABC/ESPN, CBS, FOX and NBC) and the conference championships Jan. 26 (CBS and FOX). Super Bowl LIX takes place at Caesars Superdome in New Orleans Feb. 9 on FOX.

A QUICK RUNDOWN OF WHAT TO WATCH THIS MONTH

Denis Leary

1 GOING DUTCH

Thursdays beginning Jan. 2 on FOX

NEW SERIES!

Denis Leary tiptoes through the tulips with combat boots in FOX's new military/workplace comedy Going Dutch, set in the least strategically important U.S. Army installation in the world: Garrison Stroopsdorf in the Netherlands.

Leary stars as Col. Patrick Quinn, an experienced and highly decorated officer who loses it one day and goes off on an unhinged tirade. Army brass discipline him in the most effective manner possible, banishing him to take command of Stroopsdorf, which has become more like Club Med than a military post. Worse yet, the base's temporary commanding officer is his estranged daughter, Capt. Maggie Quinn (Taylor Misiak), who now has to take orders from the father she grew up without. Col. Quinn relies on his exceedingly loyal aide, Maj. Abraham Shah (Danny Pudi), to smooth things over with Maggie while trying to restore pride and discipline to the troops.

Tim Allen and Kat Dennings

2 SHIFTING GEARS

Wednesdays beginning Jan. 8 on ABC

NEW SERIES!

Home Improvement and Last Man Standing alum Tim Allen is back on primetime for another masculine fatherly role, playing Matt, a widower and owner of a classic automobile restoration shop, who faces his most challenging repair to date: fixing his relationship with estranged daughter Riley (Kat Dennings), who shows up out of the blue with her children after separating from her husband.

Seann William Scott

"The show is super-duper funny, with tons of heart," says Seann William Scott, who plays shop mechanic and "lovable oddball" Gabriel. "Kat Dennings and Tim Allen are the two leads and they're just total rock stars. I am absolutely loving working with them. Tim Allen is a total legend. He's hilarious and it's just surreal every single day. Kat Dennings is also a comedic killer. The whole cast. I love everybody on the show." Of his character Gabriel, he adds: "He's a mechanic at the shop that Matt works at. He is very idiosyncratic, a good guy. He kind of worships Matt. He's known the family for a long time, grew up with Kat's brother and is also kind of a weirdo." It's not Tool Time, but expect plenty of laughs from this ensemble. — Zhanna Slor

Going Dutch comes from showrunner Joel Church-Cooper (Brockmire), who drew from his real-life experience as a consultant for the Army when it closed a base in the Netherlands. "We fell in love with the story and the characters that Joel created and came out of his mind," Leary says.

> "We fell in love with the story and the characters that Joel [Church-Cooper] created and came out of his mind."
> – Denis Leary

Having molded himself after "Old Blood and Guts" Gen. George Patton, taking command of Stroopsdorf — where the highest alert involves laundry — is a demoralizing assignment for a warhorse like Col. Quinn. "Through a series of comic moments, he comes to own one of Gen. Patton's guns that was still left behind in Europe," Leary says. "And later in the series, he actually starts to have literal conversations with the gun and Gen. Patton when he's drunk."

Other personnel include Sgt. Dana Conway (Laci Mosley), the crafty supply sergeant who can get just about anything. "She wants temporary promotions and assignments to go to other bases, to procure art, alcohol and other expensive antiques," Leary says. There's Cpl. Elias Papadakis (Hal Cumpston), the unkempt tech wiz whose skills make him practically exempt from discipline. "He wants to get on my good side so that maybe he can advance, which is an extraordinary thought to enter his head," Leary says. Lowest in the ranks is eager-to-please Pvt. Anthony "BA" Chapman (Dempsey Bryk). "Later in the season you'll find out why he's nicknamed that," Leary teases. "It's not because he's smart." — Ryan A. Berenz

3 THE PITT

Thursdays beginning Jan. 9 on MAX

NEW SERIES!

"Let's go save some lives," Dr. Michael Robinavitch (Noah Wyle) tells a fresh crop of residents and medical students on their first day at "The Pitt," a crowded Pittsburgh emergency room, in this hospital drama's fast-paced premiere. He also warns the newbies that this job might give them ulcers, or worse. Case in point: Before even seeing a patient, the caring MD, nicknamed "Robby," heads up to the roof where a colleague hints that he has pondered jumping.

You don't need a lab test to see that the series, executive produced by John Wells and created by R. Scott Gemmill, has the same blood type as their earlier hit, ER. The landmark show, lauded for its character-driven, gritty realism (which set the standard for future IV-infused TV), launched on NBC in 1994 and gave Wyle his breakout role as a medical student, John Carter.

The Pitt offers the actor a chance to play the doc that Carter might have become — older, wiser, loaded with empathy and baggage. Wyle still delivers medical jargon and operates surgical tools like a pro. Wells has said of the actor's work on ER, "[He] would still give you the best suturing job you've ever had in your life. He really took it seriously."

Everyone in the cast must be supremely believable, thanks to the show's structure. The series takes place over a single day, with 15 episodes, each covering an hour of a shift starting at 7am. That means more time to linger over treating a gunshot wound or a debate between Robby and his colleague/former fling Dr. Collins (Tracey Ifeachor) about a pregnant teen — all against an endless stream of terrified, belligerent, teary, flirty patients.

As Robinavitch grapples with working on the four-year anniversary of his mentor's death, he assures the gallows-humor-loving crew that he's fine. He's not. Neither are they. Watching all of them soldier on anyway is a reminder of the joy of being human. — Kate Hahn

4 WILL TRENT

Tuesdays beginning Jan. 7 on ABC

SEASON PREMIERE!

Following Season 2's epic cliffhanger that left both Will Trent (Ramón Rodríguez) and Angie's (Erika Christensen) futures hanging in the balance, the long-awaited new season promises to answer at least some of our most pressing questions and will also introduce some new characters, such as Marion Alba, played by Jane the Virgin's Gina Rodriguez — who, by the way, is not related to the show's star, despite sharing a surname. "There are a lot of incredible things happening this season," Gina Rodriguez shared with us. "Before I joined the cast, I wasn't really super into cop procedurals, so I binged everything and I became obsessed." Of her character, she added: "I come on as an assistant district attorney. I am usually playing a hot mess, but that is not the case in this scenario, and it's really wonderful and fun and different for me." — Zhanna Slor

Tuesdays beginning Jan. 7 on FOX

NEW SERIES!

What would you do if eight years of your memory was erased? Your soulmate you thought you were married to is no longer your husband, and the tragedy that pushed you apart is about to be relived. Inspired by a true story, FOX's emotional yet inspiring drama series Doc stars House of Cards' Molly Parker as Dr. Amy Larsen, a brilliant yet feared chief of internal medicine who suffers a massive brain injury.

"It's a fantastic premise. It's a procedural medical drama, obviously, and has all the elements that we love about that genre — high-stakes sort-of mystery illnesses, complicated relationships and juicy workplace romances," Parker tells us. "But at its center is this incredible situation that this woman is in that would be completely unbelievable if it hadn't actually happened."

When Dr. Larsen awakes, she painfully comes to learn that she's divorced from her soulmate, is apparently in a secret love affair with a younger resident and is a woman she doesn't even recognize. It's a complicated love triangle.

"She thinks she has this beautiful family. She's essentially this happy woman and she wakes up to find that in the eight years that she doesn't remember, she's lost all of that and she doesn't know why," Parker adds.

While tragic, it's also an opportunity for change.

"One of the main themes of the show is this idea of second chances and if you had the opportunity to do things over, but she's not really given that opportunity, but she's given the opportunity to react to her life differently, to make different choices going forward, to decide who she wants to be as opposed to reacting to the things that happen to her."

After 30 years of acting, with high-profile roles like widower Alma Garret on Deadwood, politician Jacqueline Sharp on House of Cards and family matriarch Maureen Robinson on Netflix's Lost in Space remake, Parker is challenged in her first time playing a doctor.

"I can't pretend to know stuff that I don't understand [medically]. I am just not good at that," she laughs. "Every one of these episodes has this sort of high-stakes moment where the person I'm playing knows exactly what's going on and what needs to happen, and it needs to happen really quickly. It's also happening while she's using a lot of props, so there's an incredible amount of quick learning that has to happen on these kind of shows. It's given me an enormous respect for the performers who do this kind of work all the time, because it's really intense." — Barb Oates

Jessica De Gouw, Sam Heughan, Eleanor Tomlinson and Alfred Enoch

7 THE COUPLE NEXT DOOR

Fridays beginning Jan. 17 on STARZ

NEW SERIES!

Outlander heartthrob Sam Heughan temporarily hangs up his kilt for this dark psychological thriller about sexual entanglements in the suburbs of England. In the six-parter, he plays traffic cop Danny, who lives in an upscale community with his yoga instructor wife, Becka (Pennyworth's Jessica De Gouw). The two have an open relationship and welcome the new couple on their street, teacher Evie (Eleanor Tomlinson, Poldark) and journalist Pete (Alfred Enoch, How to Get Away With Murder) with very open arms. "The main theme of the show is desire and what happens when ordinary people cross their own moral boundaries," says executive producer Jo McGrath. "It's the anticipation of this forbidden sex, that slow-burning obsession which will eventually ignite in spectacular fashion and which makes this a very sexy series."

To cast the irresistible Danny, "We needed a star actor who could exude sex appeal but at the same time convey real emotion and vulnerability," says McGrath, who sees something of Heughan's Outlander character, 18th century Highlander Jamie Fraser, in Danny. "They are both brave, adventurous and loyal. They're somewhat flawed heroes, stubborn but capable of change. Danny is a macho alpha male, but underneath that tough-guy exterior, he's a man with secrets struggling to keep his job and family on track." Danny's secrets aren't just about what goes on behind closed bedroom doors. There are some shady doings at work that, if discovered, could blow up his life. And what he chooses to hide from Becka could split them apart. All that innocent Evie sees, though, is a glamorous couple offering adventure. "Evie meets Danny and Becka at a stage in her life where she's clearly yearning for more excitement. She's feeling reckless, and Pete hasn't properly picked up on those signals — it's not the Evie he thinks he knows," McGrath reveals.

Pete not being on the same page with Evie makes for serious tensions between the two. Another complication comes from a third couple who doesn't join in the bed-hopping but does play a major role in this curtain-twitching community. "Alan [Hugh Dennis] and Jean [Kate Robbins] have their own twisted storyline, which will really ramp up the tension for Danny and Becka in particular," McGrath hints. Let's just say they have a telescope, and Alan doesn't use it for stargazing.

The obsession, jealousy and intrigue lead to a terrifying night that is glimpsed in the premiere. It's not giving too much away to reveal that you'll hear a gunshot and a scream. It's a scene you'll wonder about as you watch these couples grow increasingly intertwined. "The series builds to a chilling climax where the stakes are life-threatening," notes McGrath. By the time you get to that finale, you may not be sure who to root for, but you'll definitely be all in. — Kate Hahn

Morris Chestnut

8 WATSON

Sundays beginning Jan. 26 on CBS

NEW SERIES!

The latest TV take on the world's most famous fictional detective puts the spotlight on the sidekick. Morris Chestnut plays Dr. John Watson, close chum of Sherlock Holmes, in this medical mystery series set in present-day Pittsburgh.

In Watson, the great sleuth Holmes is missing and presumed dead, having gone over Reichenbach Falls with his archnemesis Moriarty. Watson is recovering from serious head trauma after taking the plunge himself. Holmes had a huge nest egg, and he posthumously founds the Holmes Clinic of Diagnostic Medicine and puts Watson in charge.

Watson and his team of experts must sort out the hard facts from the red herrings to treat patients suffering from stranger-than-fiction afflictions. "The one thing that Craig Sweeny, our creator and showrunner, is really excited about is the fact that the science in our show is very accurate," Chestnut says. Google "uncombable hair syndrome" and see for yourself.

Fortunately, Watson offers more than Weird Disease of the Week. There's a lot of character-driven drama among the physicians that Watson has assembled on his team. "He's fascinated by certain aspects of their lives and certain aspects of them as human beings," Chestnut says. One of them, neurologist Ingrid Derian (Eve Harlow), has a darkness about her that reminds Watson of Holmes. And two of them, identical twins Stephens and Adam Croft, are played by one actor, Peter Mark Kendall. "We knew it was ambitious, but I think that hopefully the audience appreciates it on a number of levels," Chestnut says. "I think he's incredible playing twin brothers."

Steve Martin, Selena Gomez and Martin Short

9 ONLY MURDERS IN THE BUILDING

Thursdays beginning Jan. 2 on ABC

SEASON PREMIERE!

The hit Hulu comedy starring Selena Gomez, Martin Short and Steve Martin — plus that gorgeous Manhattan high-rise, which is so exquisite it's basically a character itself — returns for a second season on primetime this winter, with more true crime, actual crime and, of course, more podcasts. This season also features Cara Delevingne as artist Alice Banks and comedian Amy Schumer as herself (she is moving into Sting's apartment!). Plus, as always, lots of guest stars.

"I absolutely loved working with Shirley MacLaine — what a dream!" said Michael Cyril Creighton, who plays nosy neighbor Howard Morris, of this season's slew of star power. "She was so sharp, funny and really eager to play. She has this spark in her eyes that just radiates star power and mischief. There's a scene where I reverently kneel before her and hand her a cocktail. It felt right. Then the hits just kept coming ... Tina Fey brings such great energy to everything. It's also amazing whenever Da'Vine Joy Randolph is on set with us. And Nathan Lane? He's an icon and a hero of mine. Honestly, each season feels like an embarrassment of riches! We get the best of the best." — Zhanna Slor

11 GREAT MIGRATIONS: A PEOPLE ON THE MOVE

Tuesdays beginning Jan. 28 on PBS

NEW SERIES!

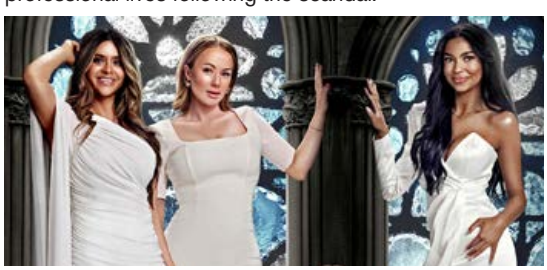

Through research, interviews and expert analysis, this new four-part miniseries from Dr. Henry Louis Gates Jr. tells the story of African American movement over the 20th and 21st centuries following nationwide emancipation. Asking what political or economic pressures inspire people to move and if there is even such a thing as a promised land, the series focuses on "three dramatic migrations that have profoundly shaped the African American experience and redefined what it means to be 'Black' in this country," said Gates. "The Great Migration from the Deep South to the North and West; the reverse migration back to the South; and, most recently, the astonishing large migration of Africans and West Indians to this country in recent decades. In fact, more Africans migrated to the United States in a 10-year period than were forcibly shipped here over the entire course of the slave trade! Our series is the first to explore these three mass movements … and what that has meant for the reshaping of American culture."

"They are giving us confessionals and sharing whatever emotions they're going through as they're going through it," Jonathan shares. Severance

Available Fridays Beginning Jan. 17

The long-awaited second season of this dark office drama about a company that employs people whose memories are "severed" while they're at work returns with more high-stakes drama, even more darkness and — perhaps best of all — more Mr. Milchick (played by Tramell Tillman). If you thought Season 1 was weird … just wait.

But if you're looking for all the answers to your burning questions, you may have to wait even longer, because this is not a story with easy, obvious resolutions. "The brand of this show is that the more you dig, the more questions you have," says Tillman, though he admits that viewers will get to know more about both Lumon and its employees this season. "There is a deep lesson too. I think severance is also a quality of compartmentalizing, and we all do that. I've had experience working in corporate America. I've had people who were very adamant about keeping their personal life out of the office. I think that's very similar to the severance procedure. It's just not a chip in your head. And I think we all do it in many ways, keeping certain aspects of our humanity away from other levels. That may be the draw for this show, because it's a human quality."

The idea of severance certainly is an interesting one; would it actually help productivity if your office life was completely disconnected from your personal life? Tillman isn't so sure. "Look at Season 1: How often were the innies distracted with each other?" he says. "It's the desire to connect. We're not islands. We all need to have a level of camaraderie in whatever sense that is. That desire, that need to have a sense of community and camaraderie, is so important. And Milchick knows that, which is why he builds these incentives. He has the melon party, the egg bar, the dance experience, because all of that feeds productivity." Which I suppose only begs the question: Why do these employees need to be severed at all? — Zhanna Slor

On Call

Available Jan. 9 ORIGINAL SERIES

This gritty police drama coproduced by Dick Wolf's son Elliot Wolf and Chicago P.D. producer Tim Walsh features a police officer (Troian Bellisario) and her rookie trainee (Brandon Larracuente) as they patrol Long Beach alongside a diverse, eclectic crew of fellow officers, including straight-talking Lt. Bishop (Lori Loughlin) and the slightly mysterious Sgt. Lasman (Eriq La Salle). Less a police procedural like the elder Wolf's slew of network legal dramas — though between father and son they may have the police angle for all of television covered — this 30-minute episodic thriller that incorporates a mixture of bodycam, dash-camera and cellphone footage will have you at the edge of your seat and potentially relieved to be sitting at home and not out chasing some of the most dangerous criminals in America.

"One of the big inspirations for this show out of the gate was the visual language and trying to tell a story through lenses that are much more relatable than a high-end cinema camera," Wolf told us. "And looking at the way that the world is moving with attention being so valuable for every person and us understanding that and appreciating that, we want to challenge ourselves and create what we call the modern half-hour procedural. It's also a really interesting character study into the people who do the job first and foremost as opposed to a detective, which is what you see in most police dramas. Patrol cops never know what's coming next, and that is such a fun landscape to build character with. You're going from the mundane to the life-altering on any given day and you never know which is coming." — Zhanna Slor
