RANDOM RANTS & RAVES

■ Writers Return To Writing?

I didn't understand how some people could work and others couldn't during the writers strike. I saw the late-night talk show hosts doing their own podcast; how was that fair? — Carol

Let's just be thankful that after 148 days, the writers strike finally came to an end. It was one of the longest in the Writers Guild of America's history. The strike impacted 16,500 members, who were prohibited from working on current shows, pitching, selling scripts, taking meetings, even responding to notes. A new three-year contract was approved and addressed artificial intelligence, minimum staffing in TV writing rooms and rewarding writers for the success of projects on streaming. As for the late-night hosts and their short-lived podcast series, Strike Force Five, the series didn't feature any writers; it was just the five hosts — Stephen Colbert, Jimmy Fallon, Jimmy Kimmel, Seth Meyers and John Oliver — riffing about various topics. It was mainly them poking fun at Fallon. All proceeds that were actually raised through Spotify apparently went to help support their out-of-work staffs during the strike.

■ Editing On "Yellowstone" & Spinoff

Last month you wrote about Yellowstone being on CBS and censors having to work overtime to clean it up. Am I the only person enjoying the cleaned-up version of the series? I don't need to hear all that potty-mouth talk that Beth (Kelly Reilly) is known for and my kids tell me I'm missing. Kevin Costner is no saint, but he's still as handsome as ever. — Kerry

Glad to hear you are enjoying the show. Here are a few other fun facts about the series that you may appreciate. Did you know that series creator Taylor Sheridan supplies some of the horses for the show? He grew up partly on a Texas ranch, has partaken in riding competitions and appears on the show as horse trader

Notable TV series, episodes, networks and/or events marking anniversaries this month.

JFK ASSASSINATION

On Nov. 22, 1963, CBS News broke into As the World Turns with a series of bulletins as Walter Cronkite informed the nation that President John F. Kennedy had been fatally shot. Two days later, live TV cameras captured the fatal shooting of suspected assassin Lee Harvey Oswald by Jack Ruby.

DOCTOR WHO

The classic British sci-fi series, which became very popular here across the pond as well, debuted on the BBC on Nov. 23, 1963, led by William Hartnell as the First Doctor.

Lawmen: Bass Reeves is the next series attached to Yellowstone creator Taylor Sheridan

Universe to find a home on a cable or other network. — Ernest

Stargate SG-1 is available to watch on Comet, the over-the-air antenna-based network that is also available on some cable/satellite lineups, and you can stream on Prime Video.

■ More “Stargate,” Please!

I watched the 1994 film Stargate, which I had not seen in some time, and it occurred to me that the 30th anniversary of Stargate is not too far off. It seems to me that it is long overdue for a movie and/or TV series to return to that fantastic sci-fi universe. It is time for new stories to be told and new dangers to befall humanity, only to be saved at the last moment by the heroic actions of SG-1. Maybe Roland Emmerich and Dean Devlin could accept this challenge to revive this unique storytelling, or as the Jaffa Teal'c might say — “Indeed.” Also, I'd like SG-1, Atlantis and Travis Wheatley. When it comes to actors and riding, Kelly Reilly is the best, having grown up using English saddles, not Western. Lastly, Gator, the Duttons' chef, is played by Gabriel “Gator” Guilbeau, who runs craft services, the department that supplies meals to cast and crew. Sheridan's next series, Lawmen: Bass Reeves, will debut Nov. 5 on Paramount+. The series stars David Oyelowo in the titular role as the historical figure who rose from being a slave to becoming the first Black U.S. Marshal west of the Mississippi. The cast also includes Shea Whigham and Garrett Hedlund.

55 YEARS AGO

KIRK AND UHURA KISS

One of U.S. television's earliest and most memorable interracial kisses came between William Shatner's Capt. Kirk and Nichelle Nichols' Lt. Uhura in the “Plato's Stepchildren” episode of Star Trek on Nov. 22, 1968.

50 YEARS AGO

A CHARLIE BROWN THANKSGIVING

This beloved Peanuts holiday special debuted on CBS on Nov. 20, 1973, and memorably featured the ongoing element of Lucy pulling the football away from Charlie Brown just as he is about to kick it.

45 YEARS AGO

DIFF'RENT STROKES

The classic sitcom starring Conrad Bain, Gary Coleman, Todd Bridges, Dana Plato and Charlotte Rae (who eventually left to lead the spinoff series The Facts of Life) debuted on Nov. 3, 1978, on NBC, where it aired its first seven seasons. It moved to ABC for a final season in 1985-86.

40 YEARS AGO

“THE DAY AFTER” TV MOVIE

Plenty of viewers were still shaking the day after seeing this terrifying and graphic film depicting the aftermath of a nuclear attack, which ABC premiered on Nov. 20, 1983.

35 YEARS AGO

MURPHY BROWN

The classic sitcom led by multiple Emmy winner Candice Bergen in the title role aired on CBS from Nov. 14, 1988, to May 18, 1998, in its original run. Bergen and some other original cast members returned for a very brief revival that ran Sept. 27-Dec. 20, 2018.

Christmas Comes To GRACELAND & NBC

For the first time in history, Graceland is opening its gates for a live holiday music event that will showcase Elvis' historic home and celebrate his music, as well as the season. The one-hour Christmas at Graceland will air Wednesday, Nov. 29 on NBC (it will also simulcast on the net's streaming platform Peacock).

Elvis' granddaughter and Emmy-nominated actress Riley Keough (Daisy Jones & the Six) brings incredible access, insight and context to the special as an executive producer, alongside Gina Gammell and their Felix Culpa production company.

"My family and I are elated to open the doors to Graceland in this first-of-its-kind special," says Keough. "With intimate musical performances drawing inspiration from my grandfather Elvis' cherished Christmases in Memphis, viewers will be invited to experience firsthand the magic that is Christmas at Graceland."

Likening the event to the unforgettable

Adele One Night Only, Matthew Gross, senior vice president of Authentic Studios (one of the studios behind the production), adds, "This is not going to be like any other television event — there will be no live audience. Christmas at Graceland will highlight Elvis' home and what the holidays meant to him and his family, including conversations with the industry's top performers within an unplugged musical experience. We will be filming from all corners of the estate, guaranteed to excite the millions of people who have visited Graceland, as well as those who have not."

As of presstime, the talent roster and the setlist hadn't been confirmed, but expect some surprises as producers work with talent to determine the songs they wish to perform. "We have an extraordinary lineup of performing artists," tells Ian Stewart, president of the production company Done + Dusted. "There will be something for everyone. We will be presenting many of Elvis' songs; some are Christmas songs and others evoke the spirit of the holiday season. We will also be presenting two songs that to the best of my knowledge have never been performed on television before."

"DEAL" GOES PRIMETIME

Wayne Brady's daytime fave Let's Make a Deal pulls the night shift again on CBS, beginning with a vacation-themed special (Nov. 3) loaded with getaways to the Maldives, Bora Bora, Bali, Jamaica and Ibiza. Other themes include a salute to our military on Nov. 10 with musical guest Jordin Sparks, and a Nov. 17 hour with an entire week's worth of daytime prizes, like a Throwback Thursday tribute to Deal's first host Monty Hall and prize model Carol Merrill.

5 QUESTIONS WITH BUDDY VALASTRO

By Jeff Pfeiffer

November marks the start of the holiday season for many, and that also means a time for great food and sweet desserts. So, it is fitting that celebrity baker Buddy Valastro comes back to TV this month with two new series on A&E: Legends of the Fork and Buddy Valastro's Cake Dynasty. The series air back-to-back Saturday nights beginning Nov. 11.

Legends of the Fork follows Valastro across the country as he uncovers the recipes and people behind some of the most popular restaurants. "It's basically a show where I go and meet people, see the 'secret sauce' to what makes their place legendary," says Valastro, who visits 40 different locations, including Nashville, Los Angeles, Chicago, Detroit, New Jersey and New York.

From there, Valastro then filmed Cake Dynasty, which he describes as "basically a reality show of my life. It is where we are now with the evolution of my business [Carlo's Bake Shop in Hoboken] and my family. My kids, when we were doing [the 2009-20 series] Cake Boss, were really young, so they weren't on the show as much. But now [this series] is the succession part of who's going to take over the business. ... It's not only about making one giant cake. Today we're making 7,500 cakes."

In fact, the very busy Valastro had literally just taken something out of the oven before kindly taking the time to answer our "5 Questions."

1 Do you have a favorite sports team? Yeah, I'm a New York Giants fan in football and a New York Yankees fan [in baseball]. Those are my two main, and then hockey would be the [New Jersey] Devils. Basketball, I would say probably the [Brooklyn] Nets; even though they left New Jersey, we forgive them.

2 Do you have any pets? I do. I have three dogs: Duke, a German shepherd, and two Yorkies, Bella and Baci.

3 You've met and worked with/baked for a lot of celebrities. Have you been starstruck by any? I was starstruck by Oprah Winfrey and Lawrence Taylor. Two weird spectrums, right? Oprah was like a dream, to be able to meet and make a cake for her ... and she was so nice off- and on-camera. Then Lawrence Taylor — growing up being a Giants fan, I was just so psyched to meet him. I told him I wanted to tackle him, and he looked me dead in the eye, and he was like, "You [can] try; I don't think it's going to work. Take [the] ball." I was excited; I was like a little kid.

4 Do you have a favorite travel spot? Yes; depends on who I'm with. If it's me and my wife, we love St. Barts. If it is me, my wife and my kids, I would say probably the Bahamas.

5 Are there certain pastries/cakes that are more fun to make than others? At this point, I've made so many cakes and so many pastries and everything else, [but] the funny thing for me is I still enjoy it. ... I would say the pastry that gives me the most pride that we make is our lobster tail, because it is the hardest Italian pastry to make and we're probably one of the only places that make it ourselves from scratch, the old-fashioned way. And then when you take a bite of that crispy shell, it just makes everything so worth it. Funny enough, we're making them today and I had one for breakfast.

FALL BALL

A New Reason To Pay Attention To The NBA In Autumn.

By Ryan A. Berenz

An NBA championship was nice, but what Nikola Jokić and the Denver Nuggets really want is the NBA Cup

For many casual NBA observers, the season doesn't start until football season winds down and the league has its Christmas Day extravaganza. The league hopes to change that with the In-Season Tournament and the quest for the NBA Cup beginning this year.

The tournament format has all 30 teams divided by conference into three groups of five teams. In the group phase, each team plays its group opponents one time, and all tournament games (except for the championship) also count toward the regular-season record. The top team from each group and one wild-card team from each conference move on to an eight-team, single-elimination knockout round beginning Dec. 4. The semifinals and finals are held at T-Mobile Arena in Las Vegas Dec. 7 and 9, with the winner awarded the unimaginatively named NBA Cup.

The group stage games are played on Tuesdays and Fridays, with TNT airing Tuesday doubleheaders and ESPN carrying two games on Fridays. Tournament action begins Nov. 3 with ESPN airing the N.Y. Knicks at the Milwaukee Bucks and the Dallas Mavericks at the Denver Nuggets.

The NBA Cup clearly won't have the same weight in the hearts of players and fans as an NBA championship does, but it does offer hoops followers a little more to root for (and to gamble on) during the fall. And you'll be able to buy and proudly wear a 2023 NBA Cup Champions sweatshirt if your favorite team wins.

JFK Remembered

► JFK: ONE DAY IN AMERICA

Sunday, Nov. 5 on Nat Geo

Nat Geo's JFK: One Day in America, premiering all three of its episodes on Sunday, Nov. 5, is the second installment of the network's One Day in America anthology docuseries franchise (the first was the Emmy-winning 9/11: One Day in America).

The series forensically explores momentous events in our history — in this case, chronicling in real time not only the day that Kennedy was assassinated, but also the days surrounding it, in hourlong episodes titled “Assassination,” “Manhunt” and “Revenge.”

JFK: One Day in America was produced in official collaboration with the Sixth Floor Museum at Dealey Plaza in Dallas and received exclusive permission to colorize the museum's news footage archives for the first time, including film of suspected assassin Lee Harvey Oswald when he is in police custody, and when he is shot by Jack Ruby while being transferred to the county jail.

Weaving footage like that and other archival elements — including police radio recordings, live broadcasts and footage from dozens of television crews — together with new and archival testimony from those who were there, the series offers what it says will present a “comprehensive oral history” of that tragic day.

This colorized archival image shows the swearing-in ceremony of Lyndon B. Johnson as president aboard Air Force One with former first lady Jacqueline Kennedy standing next to him

Gripping New Docuseries Mark Six Decades Since President John F. Kennedy's Assassination.

Nov. 22, 2023, marks the 60th anniversary of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. To commemorate that national tragedy, and to remember the man at its center, a few networks are airing programming that looks back at that day, and the life and legacy of the young president.

Some of the eyewitnesses who are sharing their stories for the first time in a documentary here include Peggy Simpson, the only female Associated Press reporter working in Texas in 1963 and an eyewitness to Oswald's shooting; Rusty Robbins, a Dallas police officer who knew Ruby; and Bill Mercer, a local reporter who was the first to inform Oswald that he had been charged with the president's murder.

KENNEDY

Saturday, Nov. 18-

Monday, Nov. 20 on History

While Nat Geo's docuseries focuses on the days around Kennedy's assassination, History's eight-episode Kennedy — following the format of the network's previous popular and acclaimed docuseries about U.S. presidents, such as the recent FDR — takes a wider view. It chronicles the life and legacy of JFK, including his early years, his personal life, his harrowing tale of survival in World War II, his journey into politics, his historic thousand-day presidency and his assassination. The first three episodes of Kennedy air back-to-back on Nov. 18, followed by the next three on Nov. 19 and the final two on Nov. 20.

Narrated by Peter Coyote, the series unfolds through a cinematic library of archival materials (pictured right is Kennedy delivering a speech at Rice University regarding the nation's efforts in space exploration) and over 70 new interviews with those well-versed in JFK's history, including his niece Kathleen Kennedy Townsend; Conan O'Brien, a longtime member of the JFK Library Foundation's board of directors; Bruce Greenwood, who has portrayed Kennedy in film; and Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist Eileen McNamara.

According to Ashton Gleckman, who wrote, directed and composed the music for the series, "John F. Kennedy's time as president of the United States serves as a timeless example of how empathetic leadership coupled with charisma, idealism and the use of spoken word transcends time. ... I hope this intimate yet epic story about public service, personal growth and leadership connects with young people, both this generation and future generations, as it did with me."

FARGO

Tuesdays beginning Nov. 21 on FX
SEASON PREMIERE!

In the fifth season of Noah Hawley's brilliant Midwestern crime thriller series, the question that seems to be bubbling up from underneath the gun-toting machismo and quick-witted verbal volleying is: What is a man?

Really bringing this question to the surface is cowboy Sheriff Roy Tillman, exceptionally portrayed by Jon Hamm, who is a "constitutional" law enforcer who makes his own rules and expects everyone to follow them, other than him. Occasionally he makes good points, but Roy has all the downsides of a cult leader, including very inappropriate behavior toward women. Always nearby and looking for his approval is his trigger-happy son, Gator (played by Stranger Things' Joe Keery), who is more bark than bite and can't seem to ever get a "win." Most unlike a man is police deputy Indra Olmstead's useless husband, who spends his days playing golf in the garage and is so childish in his behavior that at first it appears as if Olmstead is a single mother with an overly coddled adult son.

To contrast these extreme cases of modern manliness (and lack thereof) is Wayne Lyon (David Rysdahl) — son of billionaire Lorraine Lyon — who is the complete inverse of all the other men; he's just a regular guy who can't quite catch up to the chaos around him. Also, he is fenced in by brilliant women who are always several steps ahead of him.

Women are definitely the highlight of the season, using their brains over their brawn to outwit the brutes who surround them. Wayne's wife Dot Lyon, played by Ted Lasso's Juno Temple, is at face value an overly polite Minnesota mother. However, an incident at a PTA meeting sets off a chain of events that leads to an assortment of cascading, dangerous escapades, for which she is oddly well prepared. Her mother-in-law, Jennifer Jason Leigh's Lorraine, is no mere housewife either. Crude, blunt and definitely somewhat unhinged, Lorraine has some of the best dialogue on the show and is enjoyably unpredictable. Never Have I Ever's Richa Moorjani also shines as the town's police deputy and possibly the only one who has her head on straight.

Dubious men are often the driving force of Fargo, but boy, this is quite the assortment; at times it's not clear who to root for, because at its core, it is not a battle between good and evil — all the main players are definitely a mix of both — but about who has more influence, and if laws supersede money or money supersedes law.

"It's a modern story about the things that divide our world," says executive producer Steve Stark. "Big ideological things. The power of ego and control. So, the villains are not as obvious this season." Luckily for viewers, with Hawley at the helm, nothing in this show is obvious. That's what makes it such a joy to watch.

2 NCIS: SYDNEY

Tuesdays beginning
Nov. 14 on CBS

NEW SERIES!

Remember when you knew that putting on CBS at 8/7c on a Tuesday meant an episode of NCIS? Well, it's time for that once again. NCIS: Sydney, the first international edition of the hit franchise, is coming our way.

In a uniquely Australian twist, rising international tensions in the Indo-Pacific require a brilliant and eclectic team of U.S. NCIS agents and the Australian Federal Police (AFP) to serve on a multinational task force to keep naval crimes in check in the most contested patch of ocean on the planet. Led by NCIS Special Agent Michelle Mackey (Olivia Swann, DC's Legends of Tomorrow) and her 2IC AFP counterpart, Sgt. Jim "JD"

Tuuli Narkle, Todd Lasance, Olivia Swann
and Sean Sagar

Dempsey (Todd Lasance, Without Remorse), this team of Americans and Aussies must quickly learn to trust each other, overcoming and harnessing their differences to solve each case. Though jurisdictional tussles and culture clashes make for a rocky start, Mackey will eventually come to respect JD's nose for the truth, as he does her maverick style.

Meanwhile, sassy AFP Constable Evie Cooper (Tuuli Narkle) and endlessly curious Special Agent DeShawn Jackson (Sean Sagar) form a fast friendship, while curmudgeonly forensic pathologist Dr. Roy Penrose (William McNees) meets his match in the brilliant young forensic scientist Bluebird "Blue" Gleeson (Mavournee Hazel).

NEW SERIES!

Free Guy and Ready Player One writer Zak Penn is creator of this eight-part sci-fi thriller based on the Hugh Howey book and premiering with the first two episodes Nov. 12. Former military space pilot

When a malfunction on the beacon results in the crash of the Crest, Halan rescues the spacecraft's lone survivor, Aster (Game of Thrones' Lena Headey). Aster's mission is to retrieve rocks containing an unknown element that have been stored on the beacon, though Halan suspects she has a hidden agenda. Aster can't trust Halan, either, since he's mentally unstable and may have murdered the previous B-keeper. Ramping up the tension are two AI assistants with minds of their own, a band of dangerous outlaws who've arrived to plunder the beacon, and shadowy government and corporate entities pulling the strings from light-years away. — *Ryan A. 4 SEAL TEAM

Thursdays beginning Nov. 2 on CBS

SEASON PREMIERE!

Team leader Jason Hayes (David Boreanaz) and his patriotic, do-or-die unit were last seen on CBS back in 2021 in the fourth episode of Season 5 before the action drama moved to Paramount+. (Those four episodes will restart the whole season run before the rest play out.) The team was in Burkina Faso chasing down terrorists responsible for a mass casualty attack in West Africa when they made a shocking find: Their friend and former colleague Mandy Ellis (Jessica Paré) was being held captive by the killer group at an unknown location. That cliffhanger was the first in a spectacular three-episode arc.

In the next episode, a deeply worried Jason is preoccupied with finding and saving Mandy. His best friend and second-in-command, sniper Ray Perry (Neil Brown Jr.), has advice: Keep your head in the game or risk team lives. Jason listens (well, sort of; this is Jason Hayes) and leads Bravo against suicide bombers on a commuter train bound for the U.S. Consulate.

The following episode reveals Mandy's fate, which continues to affect Jason all season during adrenaline-pumping deployments in Mali, Venezuela and Afghanistan. Despite his heroics, the team boss keeps experiencing forgetfulness.

The reason for it is revealed in a suspenseful episode that, says executive producer Spencer Hudnut, "finds Bravo in the hospital all at the same time." They have little memory of why. Father-to-be Clay Spenser (Max Thieriot) figures out "how they got there — and what happened." — Kate Hahn

6 FIXER UPPER: THE HOTEL

Wednesdays beginning Nov. 8 on MAGNOLIA NETWORK
NEW SERIES!

Real estate power couple Chip and Joanna Gaines are back with a new reality spinoff series focusing on their most ambitious project yet: a large-scale hotel remodel of a historical building in Waco, Texas. Following their most recent project, renovating a castle, the couple has called this "the biggest one yet."

The hotel, named after the year the building was constructed, is called Hotel 1928 and has four floors, 33 guest rooms, a ballroom and three restaurants, one of which will be on the roof. Viewers will be able to watch the entire process of turning the historic 50,000-square-foot building into a boutique hotel, and with a scheduled opening for Nov. 1, travelers to Waco can already book a stay.

"Chip and I are drawn to projects that emphasize the value of home," Joanna, who is a mother of five in addition to a remodeling media mogul, said recently in a blog post. "It bridges what we're most passionate about — home, hospitality and restoration. What it really comes down to is our desire to create a place where people feel welcomed home."

5 GROUNDBREAKERS

Tuesday, Nov. 21 on PBS

Billie Jean King is a tennis legend, having won 39 Grand Slam titles and spent six years ranked No. 1 in women's pro tennis. But she doesn't consider tennis to be her crowning achievement.

"I'm most proud of being a champion of equality," she says. "Equality isn't only about the money. It's also about the message. It's essential that all genders are treated as equals and that we all have the same amount of societal respect, access and power."

Signed into law in June 1972, the 37-word provision known as Title IX prohibited discrimination based on sex under any "education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance."

"Title IX changed everyday life for women in the U.S.," King says. "It created educational opportunities, access to employment, sports scholarships and activities that had previously been denied to women. It created a path to equality, the kind of equality I definitely didn't have access to as a child."

In the two-hour special Groundbreakers, host King unites world-class female athletes from yesterday and today in one-on-one conversations to share their stories, their struggles and their individual paths to success.

King sits down with Team Mexico's 2022 World Flag Football Games champion Diana Flores; former U.S. Women's National Soccer Team captain Julie Foudy meets with Olympic gold medal gymnast Suni Lee; Olympic track legend Jackie Joyner-Kersey talks with four-time Grand Slam tennis champion Naomi Osaka; and basketball pioneer Nancy Lieberman chats with Olympic gold medal snowboarder Chloe Kim. — *Ryan A. Wednesdays beginning Nov. 22 on NETFLIX

NEW SERIES!

Slip on your green tracksuit and sharpen up your Red Light, Green Light game playing, as Netflix is looking to fill the void while we eagerly await Season 2 of the live-or-die Squid Game (we are still a long way off) with this new competition series. Clearly, the stakes aren't as high in this real-life challenge — no one is going to die! (although they may freeze or pass out) — as 456 contestants from around the world go against one another in a series of high-stakes children's games (yes, the creepy giant robot doll is back) for their chance at winning $4.56 million, the biggest cash prize in reality TV history. "$4.56 million? People do a whole lot worse, for a whole lot less," says the promo reel. Contrary to the fictional series, in this game losers do win, as they simply go home. Who's in?

8 THE CURSE

Sundays beginning Nov. 12 on
SHOWTIME (Stream beginning Nov. 10)

ORIGINAL SERIES

Monarch: Legacy of Monsters

Available Nov. 17

This compelling supernatural sci-fi series is set in a world where Godzilla exists and everyone knows it. When Keiko (Mari Yamamoto), who lived through a Godzilla attack in San Francisco, shows up in Japan looking for her missing father, she stumbles upon a secret so dangerous she must go on the run with a family member she never knew about and a former friend of her father's, Col. Lee Shaw, played by Kurt Russell in present times and his son Wyatt Russell in flashbacks (which may well be the highlight of the series).

Even if you've never seen a Godzilla movie, you'll instantly be hooked by the show's characters and unfolding mystery elements; it's sort of like Stranger Things for adults. You don't need to be well-versed in Godzilla to follow the origin story, either; however, if you do want to see the entire scope of the Monsterverse, this series follows the films Godzilla (2014), Kong: Skull Island (2017), Godzilla: King of the Monsters (2019) and Godzilla vs. Kong (2021).

In the end, like all great television, it's more about the characters.

"We tend to be focused on Godzilla and Kong and be up there in the clouds with the giant creatures," said executive producer Matt Shakman, who directed the first two episodes. "This is about generations of a family that were connected to the story, and about legacy; about what's passed on from generation to generation. I think it has a very strong emotional story."

JFK: What the Doctors Saw

Available Nov. TBA

Offering a controversial take on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, this film uses the recollections of seven physicians who were in the Parkland Hospital ER when Kennedy arrived. Brought together in 2013 for a joint interview, they agreed unanimously that what they found when they tried to treat JFK led to the conclusion that one of the entry shots came from the front, hitting his throat — contradicting the accepted theory that both wounds were from the rear. — Ileane Rudolph

Orlando Bloom: To the Edge

Available Nov. 9

"I never feel so alive being so close to death. I'm ready to take my life to the edge," actor Orlando Bloom confesses in the first of this three-episode adventure series. To get that thrill, the star tries the risky sports of wingsuiting ("The Mental Edge"), freediving ("The Emotional Edge") and rock climbing ("The Physical Edge"). "A big part of doing all of this is so I can be on that edge ... but safely," he adds.

Saying "phew" to that is singer Katy Perry, who shares a toddler daughter, Daisy Dove, with Bloom. Perry's presence in the series makes it all feel very personal. Their conversations are emotionally raw and philosophical; she reminds him to chant, a practice in their shared Buddhist faith that keeps one in the moment. Perry's also got a sense of humor, saying, "[Is this] the daily 'I'm alive' call?" — Kate Hahn

Julia

Available Nov. 16

Food stylist Christine Tobin says she has enough Julia Child cookbooks to open her own library. And they come in handy for her job re-creating every dish the French Chef (Sarah Lancashire) serves up on the comedic series. "Even the most elaborate or ambitious dishes, the way she writes them and approaches them is for the home cook," says Tobin.

In Season 2, the cast and crew traveled to south-of-France locations like Valbonne and Antibes and to Paris for the first three episodes, where Julia experiments with new dishes and butts heads with her jealous cookbook coauthor Simca Beck (Isabella Rossellini). But were there too many cooks in the kitchen? "There's a lot more people handling food together than just Julia, or with her husband, Paul [David Hyde Pierce]," says Tobin. "Compared to Season 1, it was a lot more planning, choreography and coaching of those [shots]."

Tobin says shooting those cooking moments takes planning "so everyone knows what the sequence of the recipe is in preparation." And for the sea bass pastry dish Loup en Croûte, which Julia attempts in the season premiere, Tobin made over 20 of them. However, one needed to be less than perfect when Julia's first try fails. "It's amazing how much more difficult it is as a food stylist to make something look ugly!"

Don't worry that any food goes to waste; hungry cast and crew are always nearby. "Everyone gains 10 pounds when we're shooting Julia," says Tobin, laughing. — Jim Halterman

TUESDAY, NOV. 21

▶ SEASON Premiere!

Fargo

FX, 9/8pm

Though Jon Hamm is brilliant as cult leader and sheriff Roy Tillman, women are definitely the highlight of the newest season of Noah Hawley's unique Midwestern crime thriller series, which may be the best one yet. Housewife Dot Lyon, played by Ted Lasso's Juno Temple, is at face value an overly polite Minnesota mother. However, an incident at a PTA meeting sets off a chain of events that leads to an assortment of cascading, dangerous escapades, for which she is oddly well prepared. Her mother-in-law, Jennifer Jason Leigh's Lorraine, is no mere housewife either. Crude, blunt and a tad unhinged, Lorraine has some of the best dialogue on the show and is enjoyably unpredictable. Never Have I Ever's Richa Moorjani also shines as the town's police deputy and possibly the only one who has her head on straight. As always, it can be difficult to decide who to root for or foresee where the show is going — but that is the beauty of Fargo.
