NEW Delivery/Replacement Policy! (Effective with September 2025 issue)

Dear Friends,
Due to unpredictable, inconsistent and sometimes extremely poor service by the U.S. Postal Service, as well as continuous postal increases, we are forced to change our delivery policy.

Beginning with your September 2025 issue, please give the Post Office a few extra days – until the 5th day of the issue month to deliver your magazine (in this case it would be waiting until Sept. 5, 2025, to contact us requesting a replacement). We know this is not ideal, but we are spending almost $4.00 an issue to remail a copy we've already mailed to you (and are losing too much money). We hope that by giving them a few extra days, your magazine will be delivered and we can continue to keep this magazine in circulation. If your magazine has not arrived in your mail by the 5th of the month, please let us know by calling or emailing.

By phone: 1-888-899-9992

RANDOM RANTS, RAVES & THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW

HBO Family And Some Cinemax Nets To Retire

Warner Bros. Discovery, the parent company to HBO and Cinemax, announced that they will be shutting down a few of their multiplex networks effective around Aug. 15. Included in their plan are the linear networks HBO Family, ThrillerMax, MovieMax and OuterMax. These channels will no longer be included in subscription packages; however, these networks also didn't have premiere movie titles and were mainly scheduled around repeat movie airings from the flagship nets of HBO and Cinemax. This announcement also relates to the company's recent layoffs and revenue declines.

How Much Do The Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders Make?

Speaking of paychecks … Season 2 of Netflix's America's Sweethearts: Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders featured some spirited discussions around how much these talented dancers are actually getting paid. After the show's first season premiered in 2024, viewers were appalled to learn how little the women made for how much work they do for the program and on game days (which can sometimes be up to 11 hours long). Multiple outlets have reported that the ladies make between $15 and $20 per hour. Former team member Kristin Westbrook, who was on the squad from 2019 to 2022, gave a more specific breakdown in June 2025. "When I was on the team, it was hourly for practice [of] $15/hour," she shared, adding that team members were given $400 per NFL game and a "flat fee" for other appearances. This flat fee started at $100 for rookies and increased $100 each season you were on the team. The pushback from the veteran squad members, which was shown at the end of Season 2, paid off, as they found out that the raise they were asking for had come through. "Our efforts were heard, and they wanted to give us a raise," Megan McElaney shared. "We ended up getting a 400% increase, which is, like, life-changing."

Anne Burrell's Final Season To Air

After the tragic and heartbreaking death of celebrity chef Anne Burrell, who passed away at just 55 in June, Food Network announced the date for the new season of Worst Cooks in America, where she was one of the hosts and mentors. Worst Cooks in America: Talented and Terrible will premiere on July 28 and will feature recruits who are professional performers and are used to stealing the spotlight, but in the kitchen, they are dishing out disasters.

Correction Needed!

In our July issue, we ran a story on Lifetime's original movie Faith in the Flames: The Nichole Jolly Story. The author incorrectly quoted Chrissy Metz. The quote should have read: "I had to borrow gas money to get to the audition. I vividly remember that after [I got the role] I called my friend to tell her that I was going to be able to pay her back." Also, Metz's children's album Big Feelings is available now, and she'll have a new EP out later this fall. We apologize for this error involving one of the nicest actors in the industry!

A Hallmark True Romance

When Calls the Heart stars Erin Krakow and Ben Rosenbaum got married in real life. The couple made the surprise announcement with a joint post on social media on June 23.

Congratulations!

Kelly Clarkson

Music Stars Share Songs And Stories With Kelly Clarkson In New Series.

This summer, NBC turns up the volume on Tuesdays beginning Aug. 19. Songs & Stories With Kelly Clarkson is a programming event inspired by the "Songs & Stories" episodes of The Kelly Clarkson Show that consists of four hourlong specials showcasing and taking introspective looks at various musical artists. It offers a forum where famous voices meet heartfelt storytelling through unfiltered conversations with host Clarkson and performances in an intimate, unplugged setting.

Featured in these specials are Gloria Estefan, Jonas Brothers, Lizzo and Teddy Swims (the order in which these artists will appear was not available at presstime). These chats offer a front-row pass for the host to engage with some of her favorite celebrities and examine both their music and their personal lives.

As examples of the sorts of things you might see in this series, previous "Songs & Stories" episodes on Clarkson's talk show have featured Babyface examining his catalog of love songs, Miranda Lambert and Clarkson surprising the audience with an impromptu rendition of Chappell Roan's "Good Luck, Babe!," and Alanis Morissette confessing why she didn't originally want her song "Ironic" on her Jagged Little Pill album, with her and Clarkson then harmonizing an acoustic rendition of the 1996 hit single.

5 QUESTIONS WITH "THE FIXER'S" MARCUS LEMONIS

By Jacqueline Cutler

Marcus Lemonis broadcasts boss. That calm confidence shines through in his latest series, The Fixer (Fridays on FOX), as he advises and invests in small-business owners. While shooting a segment of the series in Manhattan, he answers our "5 Questions."

1 How did you earn your first dollar? From the candy business. My mom had this big jar of coins. I thought, "I'm going to take some of this money and buy some candy, and I'm going to resell it." So, I went to the local 7-Eleven and bought as much as I could and sold it at school. I knew that I could charge double. My thesis was that I would put the money back, and my mother would never find out. I made a couple of very fatal mistakes. My mother did know because she's a mom. After I had been doing business for about two weeks, she said to me, "How's business? … By the way, you owe me $2,000." I said, "No, it was only like $120." She said, "They were all-silver coins!" She put a piece of paper in front of me, and it was a promissory note. She said, "You want to borrow money from me, I'm happy to loan it to you. But this is how it works. You pay me interest." Every month she would give me an invoice to show me what my balance was.

2 What was your next venture? I loved landscaping so I started my own business. My mother took me to Sears and bought me a riding lawn mower and a weed whacker, and I would go door-to-door and give my pitch. "Hi, I'm Marcus from down the street. I know your current lawn company charges you $55. I'm willing to do it for $45. I'll do the first one for free, and if I do a good job, I would like a six-month contract." People would look at me like, "You're 12, go away!" but I ended up signing up a lot of different homes. I started hiring other kids.

3 When were you starstruck? My family founded St. Jude Children's Research Hospital with Danny Thomas. We used to put on a fundraising ball at the Fontainebleau Hotel in Miami Beach. I was asked to go get the entertainer for the evening. We were walking down, and he said, "Are you familiar with what I do or who I am?" I said, "Oh yes, sir, my mother listens to you in her Monte Carlo while she smokes, because my dad doesn't know that she smokes." He said, "Well, kid, I smoke, too. Does your mom have a cigarette?" I said, "I can go find out." So I go to my mother and said, "Mr. Sinatra asked if he could have a cigarette."

4 What's the most common mistake small-business owners make? Is it just motivation to be a millionaire, or is there motivation to have independence and build wealth for their family? That really matters. Being singularly focused on "I want to make $100 million" usually leads to poor decision making.

5 How is The Fixer different from your show The Profit? I think it's going to be the same, except I'm different. I'm happily married, I'm older and I'm wiser.

OVERDUE BILLS

Buffalo Wings It In The NFL Preseason Spotlight.

By Ryan A. Berenz

NFL Preseason TV Highlights

July 31: Hall of Fame Game: Detroit vs. L.A. Chargers (at Canton, Ohio), NBC

Aug. 17: Buffalo at Chicago, FOX

Aug. 18: Cincinnati at Washington, ESPN

Aug. 21: New England at N.Y. Giants, Prime Video

Aug. 22: Minnesota at Tennessee, CBS

The Buffalo Bills have a history of never being good enough. The franchise that lost four straight Super Bowls in the 1990s is still one of 12 teams that have never won a Lombardi Trophy. Despite earning five straight AFC East championships, the Bills have run into a brick wall (usually the Kansas City Chiefs) in the playoffs. But maybe this will finally be their year.

Last season's league MVP Josh Allen and the Bills get the Hard Knocks treatment from HBO and NFL Films for the first time when the venerable documentary series returns Tuesdays beginning Aug. 5. Camera crews capture all the drama as head coach Sean McDermott and general manager Brandon Beane evaluate their players and build their roster during training camp at St. John Fisher University in suburban Rochester, New York. History is not on the Bills' side: No team has appeared on Hard Knocks and played in the Super Bowl in the same season.

On Saturday, Aug. 2, four new enshrinees enter the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio, in a ceremony airing on ESPN and NFL Network. Gold jackets are presented to cornerback Eric Allen, defensive end Jared Allen, tight end Antonio Gates and wide receiver Sterling Sharpe, who joins brother Shannon (Class of 2011) to become the first siblings to enter the Hall.

The regular season kicks off Thursday, Sept. 4, with the Dallas Cowboys visiting the Super Bowl LIX champion Philadelphia Eagles in an NFC East rivalry game on NBC.

TCM'S SUMMER UNDER THE STARS

It's that time of year once again! Summer Under the Stars (SUTS), Turner Classic Movies' annual August lineup of favorite stars along with a selection of their films, is back with eight new additions and a slew of network premieres to go along with them. As always, each day of the month will be devoted to one specific actor or actress. For more details, check out the adjacent calendar. — Zhanna Slor

CHRISTOPHER PLUMMER (AUG. 2)

The acclaimed Academy Award winner is such an obvious choice for inclusion in SUTS it's hard to believe this is his inaugural season! Christopher Plummer will make his premiere with 11 quality titles, including three premieres: the classic 1965 musical film The Sound of Music, the 1976 war film Aces High and 2009's The Last Station, which garnered Plummer one of his three Oscar noms, for playing Russian author Leo Tolstoy. (But to many, he will always be known as Captain von Trapp.)

FRANK SINATRA (AUG. 22)

We can never get enough of Ol' Blue Eyes, and neither can TCM! Tune in for an entire day devoted to the Chairman of the Board, with a total of 11 films and career highlights such as The Tender Trap (1955), Guys and Dolls (1955) and Ocean's 11 (1960), which features all five members of the Rat Pack.

RUBY DEE (AUG. 7)

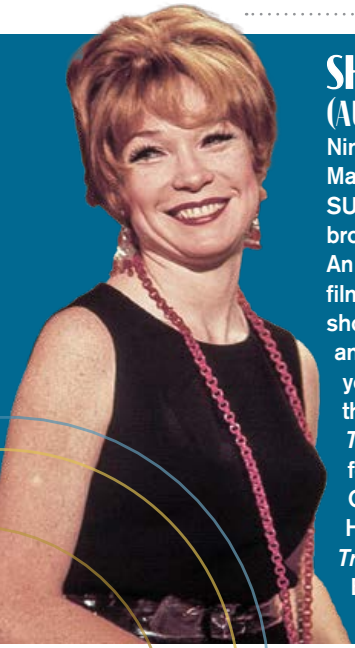

African American actress and civil rights activist Ruby Dee, who first made a splash in Hollywood for her role as Ruth Younger in the 1961 drama A Raisin in the Sun, will make her SUTS debut with 12 films, including three premieres: Long Day's Journey Into Night (1982), Uptight (1968) and The Court-Martial of Jackie Robinson (1990).

DONALD O'CONNOR (AUG. 28)

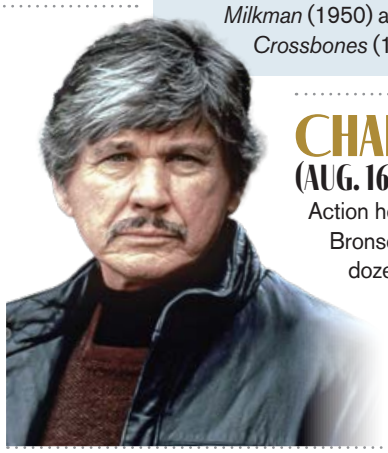

On what would have been the actor/dancer's 100th birthday, Donald O'Connor will make his SUTS debut, featuring some of his most well-known musical films, such as, of course, Singin' in the Rain (1952), There's No Business Like Show Business (1954), and the TCM premieres of The Milkman (1950) and Double Crossbones (1951).

SHIRLEY MACLAINE (AUG. 13)

Ninety-one-year-old Shirley MacLaine is no stranger to SUTS (and neither is her brother Warren Beatty). An array of her greatest films will air today to showcase why she's such an exceptional part of the yearly tradition, including the poignant 1983 drama Terms of Endearment, for which she won an Oscar, as well as the 1955 Hitchcock comedy The Trouble With Harry and the Bob Fosse musical Sweet Charity (1969).

CHARLES BRONSON (AUG. 16)

Action hero and World War II veteran Charles Bronson makes his SUTS debut with a dozen action-packed films, including two premieres — Chato's Land (1972) and Death Wish (1974) — plus Western classics such as The Magnificent Seven (1960) and Run of the Arrow (1957).

THE TOP 12

1 OUTLANDER: BLOOD OF MY BLOOD

Fridays beginning Aug. 8 on STARZ

NEW SERIES!

In the windswept Scottish Highlands, laughter comes from behind a picturesque stand of twisted trees along a stone wall. The source of the hilarity: actors Hermione Corfield and Jeremy Irvine, who've just finished shooting a scene from the premiere of Outlander: Blood of My Blood that's too steamy for a set visitor's eyes.

They play the passionate parents of Outlander heroine/accidental time traveler Claire (Caitríona Balfe) in this prequel — already renewed for a second season — that tells the parallel stories of them and the equally fiery mother and father of Claire's soulmate, 18th century Highlander Jamie Fraser (Sam Heughan). Turns out, the central couple in the original global hit based on Diana Gabaldon's bestselling novels have plenty of lust woven into their DNA.

The actors emerge in tweedy post-World War I-era clothing. As young marrieds, brainy suffragette Julia Moriston (Corfield) and lawyer/war veteran Henry Beauchamp (Irvine) are on a driving holiday, and pull over for a tumble. So, are the actors nervous about starring in the first follow-up to a beloved, long-running drama?

"I've put 100% in, and hopefully it is something that people love," says Corfield, who uncannily resembles Balfe. Another thing that's sure to make fans happy are the appealing traits Julia shares with Claire. "Julia is one of those people who always need stimulation. She's got a very busy and practical brain, is extremely creative, paints and writes. She's deeply motivated by women's rights."

Julia and Henry "meet" during the war when she's working in the censorship office, and he is at the front. His letters "to whom it may concern" fall into her hands, and they begin corresponding.

Irvine adores that aspect of the story. "The utter glory of falling in love via letter is anathema to modern people. It's lovely falling in love with personality first, and then, when [they meet] he sees that she's beautiful," says the actor, whose character's war flashbacks are one of many traumas that the couple must confront in a world that has a habit of ripping them apart from each other, even in peacetime.

The idea for the dual-timeline spinoff came from Outlander executive producer Matthew B. Roberts, who started planning out the concept about five years ago and received Gabaldon's blessing.

"People reacted so passionately to the love story in Outlander that it felt like it was a natural place to go to show the genesis of Jamie and Claire," says Roberts. "Jamie and Claire were meant to be, despite all the forces of the universe thrown at them. Every move [in this show] is integral into getting Jamie and Claire together. That's the universe coming full circle."

"Full circle" is an apt term. At another shooting location, near the famous stone circle where Claire fell through time, a scene set in the early 18th century is taking place. Jamie's parents-to-be, Brian Fraser (Jamie Roy) and Ellen MacKenzie (Harriet Slater), are at a festival celebrating the start of summer. But the two, who shared an immediate magnetic attraction after crossing paths in dramatic circumstances, are not there together — so they plan a secret rendezvous. If this series offers the same aching soulmate desire as Outlander, it similarly keeps these lovers apart and creates thrilling adventures as they struggle to unite.

"The MacKenzies and the Frasers simply do not get on at all at this point in time," says Roy of the clashing Highland clans. "This Romeo-and-Juliet love between Brian and Ellen is very, very hush-hush, but it is all coming to a head."

"Things could end very badly for both of them if anyone were to find out," Slater adds.

Even if there were no potential for future violence, Brian, as the bastard son of cruel outcast Lord Lovat (Tony Curran), is well aware he has little to offer the privileged Ellen, whose father was the powerful laird Red Jacob (Peter Mullan). Ellen's beauty has captured many hearts, but the well-educated woman has no desire to marry.

"Ellen is strong-willed and can be quite sharp-tongued," says Slater. "She's very smart. Like Jamie." Good luck to her brothers, Dougal (Sam Retford) and Colum (Séamus McLean Ross), who are pushing her to make a strategic clan alliance by marrying wealthy Malcolm Grant (Jhon Lumsden).

Outlander fans will know many of these names and get missing pieces of their stories. Despite the familiar faces in this 1700s timeline, Roberts says, "You get a different dynamic and a different love story. They are different ages and they're fighting different things."

And a big fight it turns out to be for the 20th century couple, too. Irvine says there are "a hundred boundaries between [Henry and Julia] being together."

Add to that the cinematic sweep of Scotland, and shocking twists that will send characters and audiences alike spinning, and you've got a successor to Outlander that promises to be a bloody good time. — Kate Hahn

2 ALIEN: EARTH

Tuesdays beginning Aug. 12 on FX

NEW SERIES!

"In space, no one can hear you scream." The famous tagline to the 1979 sci-fi thriller Alien still strikes a nerve. Ellen Ripley (Sigourney Weaver) and the crew of space tug Nostromo discovered the horrific nature of the extraterrestrial creature they brought onboard, and one of the most successful genre film franchises came bursting out of pop-culture's abdomen.

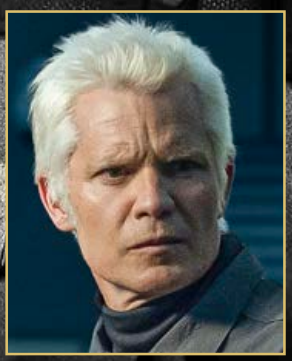

Executive producer and creator Noah Hawley (FX's Fargo and Legion) wants to capture the aura and aesthetic of Ridley Scott's Alien and James Cameron's action-packed 1986 sequel Aliens for FX's new eight-episode series.

Alien: Earth is set in 2120, two years before the events of Alien, when Earth is dominated by five megacorporations (including the notorious Weyland-Yutani Corp.) and the lines between human and machine have become blurry. After the deep space research vessel Maginot crash-lands on Earth, a human/robot hybrid prototype named Wendy (Sydney Chandler) and a ragtag group of tactical soldiers encounter alien life forms more terrifying than anyone could have ever imagined.

Fascinated with the movies as a kid, Hawley was into not only the fear factor, but also some of the more complex themes of human nature. "The movie Alien — those first two films — there's a lot of big ideas in there about humanity and artificial intelligence and the primordial past that we can't seem to escape," he says.

One of the creatures that lands on Earth is, of course, the unmistakable "perfect organism," the Xenomorph. "Other than the shark in Jaws, this is like the most iconic monster in all of film history," Hawley says, noting that the movies' deliberate revelations about the creature's life cycle and behavior are something he wanted to replicate in the series. "We brought a few species into the story," he says. "Now the audience has no idea how they reproduce and what they eat. Now we have the opportunity for the audience to feel that same feeling you felt in the original movie." — Ryan A. Berenz

Modern day ... Lachlan Quarmby, Katie Stevens and Evan Roderick

PROVIDENCE FALLS

Saturdays, Aug. 2, 9 & 16 on HALLMARK CHANNEL

3-PART ORIGINAL FILM!

Based on the book series by Jude Deveraux and Tara Sheets, this epic three-part, time-traveling romance film begins in 1844 Ireland, when Liam O'Conner (Lachlan Quarmby), a downtrodden thief, falls in love with aristocratic Cora McLeod (Katie Stevens), who is already promised in marriage to a man she barely knows. Their plan to make a new life together in America is thwarted, and the consequences of their unlikely love ripple through time, causing Liam to be transported to modern-day Oregon, where he is forced to help Cora, now a cop in Providence Falls, fall in love with another man (Evan Roderick).

"It's a really powerful story," Quarmby tells us. "We see this character who's torn between love and duty. He's caught between two worlds. He gets plucked from 1844 and dropped right in modern day. He has all his memories from the past that none of the other characters do, and he has to sort of navigate the [generational] differences, with cellphones and cars and elevators and everything like that."

Of his character's inner world, he adds, "He's got a lot of layers, particularly once he comes to modern day. He wears his heart on his sleeve. He is a dreamer; he wanted to be more, and he wanted to do more, but never really thought that he had much value. So, he kind of just lives life day-by-day and takes it one step at a time." — Zhanna Slor

THE MARLOW MURDER CLUB

Sundays beginning Aug. 24 on PBS

SEASON PREMIERE!

The amateur crime-solving sleuths of Marlow are back in a second season of this cozy mystery series set in the U.K. Based on the book series by Robert Thorogood, who is also showrunner, the new season will follow the trio of curious, puzzle-loving women — Judith (Samantha Bond), Suzie (Jo Martin) and Becks (Cara Horgan) — as they are swept up in another local murder investigation in the upscale British town. In the premiere episode, a groom is murdered at a party before his wedding.

"What's exciting about this one and what was really fun to shoot was the fact that Judith, Suzie and Becks were invited to the party," says Horgan, of the classic locked-room mystery setup of the first murder of the season. "And because it's all in this one location, there's only a finite number of suspects, really. They're not only interviewing witnesses, but they're also bringing their own perspectives of things."

And if you enjoyed the scenery in the first season, then you won't be disappointed with some of the newest Marlow locations. "It has the most spectacular houses," Horgan adds. "It blows my mind, really, that some people live like that, with these vast expansive gardens. The sets were really beautiful. We always get these amazing country houses here that are just out of this world." — Zhanna Slor

5 THE RAINMAKER

Fridays beginning Aug. 15 on USA NETWORK

NEW SERIES!

USA Network is back in the original series market in what could be a big way with The Rainmaker, based on the bestselling novel by John Grisham (previously adapted as a 1997 Matt Damon-led feature film).

The legal thriller follows Rudy Baylor (Milo Callaghan), a hotshot lawyer fresh out of law school who is fired from his prestigious law firm and signs on with small-time ambulance chaser Jocelyn "Bruiser" Stone (Lana Parrilla) and her disheveled paralegal, Deck Shifflet (P.J. Byrne), who work out of a converted former restaurant.

When Rudy and his team investigate and uncover two connected conspiracies surrounding the mysterious death of their client's son, a Black man who died while undergoing hospital care, he finds himself going head-to-head against courtroom lion (and his former employer) Leo Drummond (John Slattery), as well as his law school girlfriend, Sarah (Madison Iseman), in a wrongful death suit.

Explaining why Grisham's story continues to resonate, first through the book, then the film and now this series, showrunner/executive producer Michael Seitzman offers, "Maybe it's the David-and-Goliath [aspect], the dangerous romance or the coming-of-age story. For me, above all, it's the characters. They jumped off the page in John's book and were a joy to expand upon in our show. Not to mention, Milo Callaghan … is your next crush." — Jeff Pfeiffer

6 MAGIC CITY: AN AMERICAN FANTASY

Fridays beginning Aug. 15 on STARZ

NEW SERIES!

The Atlanta strip club known as the Black Studio 54, Magic City, is the focus of this five-part docuseries. Exploring its influence through pivotal historical moments — from the 1996 Olympics to the war on drugs — investigative journalists go behind the scenes to uncover compelling stories about the venue and its patrons, while challenging viewers to see Atlanta's hip-hop scene not just as a sound, but also as a powerful reflection of the societal forces that have shaped it.

7 ANIMALS ON DRUGS

Monday, July 28 on DISCOVERY CHANNEL

NEW SERIES!

Around the world, wild animals are getting dangerously high — and it's not by accident. Human vices are wreaking havoc on the animal kingdom, and in this three-part series (all episodes airing in one night), wildlife biologist and adventurer Forrest Galante dives into the bizarre and shocking world of animals under the influence. In Florida, Galante investigates aggressive alligators emerging from drug-seeped waterways near methamphetamine hot spots, working to capture and rehabilitate these "meth gators." Then, he explores a strange new trend in the U.S. — bear home invasions where booze and marijuana edibles feed their cravings. Lastly, in Colombia, where aggressive hippos raised by the infamous cocaine kingpin Pablo Escobar have escaped his abandoned compound and become a dangerous and deadly invasive species, Galante embarks upon a risky plan to stop them.

8 LIMITLESS WITH CHRIS HEMSWORTH

Monday, Aug. 25 on NAT GEO (Friday, Aug. 15 on DISNEY+ and HULU)

SEASON PREMIERE!

Avengers star Chris Hemsworth continues his Thor-like mission to living a longer and healthier life; however, this season is more about living better NOW. Over three episodes — "Brain Power," "Risk" and "Pain" — he seeks to uncover science-backed ways we can all boost our health and well-being. One challenge finds him meeting up with Ed Sheeran in front of 70,000 fans. Here he leans into the cognitive benefits of learning new skills, and in this case it's drumming! But the real unthinkable tasks involve challenges like climbing a terrifying 600-foot wall in the Swiss Alps during winter, as well as sure-to-be horribly brutal challenges involving frozen lakes, pepper spray and electrocution. Hopefully, this leads to living a longer, better life.

9 HURRICANE KATRINA: RACE AGAINST TIME

July 27-28 on NAT GEO

NEW SERIES!

"This is far more than a story about a storm," say executive producers Jonathan Chinn and Simon Chinn of this five-part docuseries, airing over two nights, that reveals the strength and resilience of those who survived Hurricane Katrina — the devastating Category 3 hurricane that made landfall in Louisiana 20 years ago this month, on Aug. 29, 2005.

"It's a compelling, essential reexamination of systemic failure and the enduring consequences of decisions made before, during and after the levees broke," the producers continue.

"This series goes beyond the headlines," add executive producers Ryan Coogler (Black Panther, Sinners), Zinzi Coogler and Sev Ohanian. "It's a vital historical record and a call to witness, remember and reckon with the truth of Hurricane Katrina's legacy."

This record of the storm and its aftermath was created through unprecedented access to archival footage and gut-wrenching eyewitness testimony, which exposes how a natural disaster became a national tragedy. The moment-by-moment portrayal offers new details of how the hurricane and ensuing flood unfolded in real time and transports viewers into the chaos that engulfed New Orleans in the days leading up to and following the storm's landfall.

Hurricane Katrina: Race Against Time* was directed by Oscar nominee Traci A. Curry (Attica), who brought a commitment to presenting bold, empowering narratives directly from the residents, first responders and officials present in New Orleans during the disaster.

In a first for the franchise, the competitors will not be extracted, but must escape the wasteland and find their way back to civilization at the end of the challenge, all while battling relentless threats from local wildlife (including lions, elephants and black mambas), punishing heat, and the constant dangers from the rusted metal and broken glass scattered throughout these wasted areas.

First Two Episodes Available Thursday, July 24; New Episodes Thursdays

This crime drama is told through the point of view of Alison Brooks (Rose Ayling-Ellis), a deaf woman who is struggling to make ends meet, juggling two jobs — one in a police canteen and another at a local bar — while also doing her best to support her deaf mother, Julie (Fifi Garfield). Before long, Alison is pulled into a high-stakes police investigation when Detective Sergeant Ashleigh Francis (Charlotte Ritchie) asks that she use her lip-reading skills to monitor a dangerous criminal gang. As her interpretation of their covert conversations becomes central to unlocking the police case, Alison is plunged into an exhilarating new world. But her feelings become complicated when she finds herself drawn to one of the suspects, Liam Barlow (Kieron Moore). Code of Silence has been praised for its authentic portrayal (both Ayling-Ellis and Garfield are deaf in real life), and it will also be available to stream in American Sign Language.
