Here’s how the votes panned out: Emily, Julie, Katurah, Kaleb and Kellie voted for Dee, making her the Survivor 45 winner.

Drew, Kendra and Bruce voted for Austin. Jake received no votes from the jury. You can look forward to Survivor 46 as it returns Feb. 28 on CBS.

It's never easy to say farewell to a beloved TV show, but at least these series will have their stories come full circle with planned final seasons:

Blue Bloods (CBS) The police drama following the Reagan family will have its 14th and final season of 14 episodes split into two parts. The first half premieres Feb. 16, with the remainder airing in the fall. "It has been an honor and a privilege to work on a show that not only celebrates the men and women who protect and serve in New York City, but also displayed the importance of family," says star Tom Selleck.

Bob Hearts Abishola (CBS) The charming sitcom about sock manufacturer Bob (Billy Gardell) and his unlikely romance with Nigerian immigrant nurse Abishola (Folake Olowofeyeku) concludes with a fifth season of 13 episodes premiering Feb. 12.

Curb Your Enthusiasm (HBO) Larry David's comedy begins its 12th and final season of 10 episodes on Feb. 4. "As Curb comes to an end, I will now have the opportunity to finally shed this 'Larry David' persona and become the person God intended me to be — the thoughtful, kind, caring, considerate human being I was until I got derailed by portraying this malignant character," David says, probably joking.

S.W.A.T. (CBS) Hondo (Shemar Moore) and the team will be back for a 13-episode seventh and final season beginning Feb. 16. CBS canceled S.W.A.T. in May, but then reversed that decision a few days later.

Young Sheldon (CBS) The Big Bang Theory prequel signs off with Season 7 beginning Feb. 15. The final 14 episodes bring young Sheldon (Iain Armitage) closer to the original series' adult Sheldon (Jim Parsons). — Ryan A. Berenz

5 QUESTIONS WITH INDIA DE BEAUFORT OF "NIGHT COURT"

By Jacqueline Cutler

The jazzy notes to Night Court's theme song first rang out 40 years ago — before some of the stars of its current reboot were born.

India de Beaufort, who plays prosecutor Olivia Moore in the NBC Tuesday night series, falls into that group. She was just old enough to have been able to catch the end of the Emmy-winning sitcom when it was first on, but growing up in Surbiton, a suburb of London, de Beaufort hadn't. Once cast as the jaded lawyer, she billed all 193 episodes.

As the reboot continues its second season, de Beaufort, whose credits include the reimagined One Day at a Time and Veep, answers our "5 Questions."

1 Do you have to tamp down your natural accent to play this tough cookie from New York City? No, I have a lazy ear. It's actually problematic because every time I go home, I'm told I still have a twang, a sort of softened American tone. But when I arrive, my mom gets me right back into shape. It's like a lot of friends of mine who are from Alabama or places in the South. The minute their mom calls, all of a sudden, the Southern girl comes out, and I have the British equivalent.

2 How do you describe Olivia? In the early part of the first season, I would describe her as ambitious, caffeinated. She is very self-obsessed and isolates herself. She's very much an introvert. But there's also something about her that's brave and fearless and feisty. And then as time goes by, we start to learn, actually, she's all those things. But she's also vulnerable and lonely and afraid, and we start to see that she actually has a big heart and a sense of loyalty.

3 Tell us about a time when you were starstruck. Both my parents were in the entertainment industry (mom an actress, dad a dancer), so I was one of those kids that it wasn't so out of my realm to see somebody that I recognized from somewhere. But I did stand behind Paul McCartney at a bar once. And I thought, "Currently I am standing behind Paul McCartney." I didn't say anything. That's not my style, but I was very happy to have been breathing the same air for a moment.

4 What are some of the other jobs you've had before making it as an actress? I have done everything from paper round [newspaper delivery] to washing hair at a salon. I worked at Ted Baker selling clothes. I have handed out flyers. I pretended to be Audrey Hepburn at a car show. I was Sleeping Beauty in the Harrods Christmas Parade, which is far less glamorous than it sounds. I've worked at a flea market. I've stacked shelves.

5 What is the ideal day for you? There are two answers to that question. One that involves being with all of my family, somewhere beautiful and relaxing and playing games and just being together with my husband [Todd Grinnell] and son and all of my family. And the other version is, I guess, professionally. I think if I could spend a day performing on Broadway or something with a live audience where there's singing and dancing and costumes, that would be the other end of the spectrum.

SCHEDULE

The roar of NASCAR engines in the sunny climes of Southern California and Florida does wonders for chasing away the winter blues.

Cup Series teams start their preseason tune-ups at the Busch Light Clash at the Coliseum (Feb. 4, FOX). In its third year, this 150-lap exhibition event lets teams get warmed up on a temporary, quarter-mile asphalt track built inside Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum. Martin Truex Jr. won last year's Clash, edging Austin Dillon by .786 seconds in a hard-nosed race full of bumps and spins.

Then it's off to Daytona International Speedway to gear up for the Great American Race, with the two Bluegreen Vacation Duels qualifying races taking place in primetime Feb. 15 on FS1.

The Feb. 16-18 weekend at Daytona features the Craftsman Truck Series race Friday (FS1), the Xfinity Series race Saturday (FS1) and the 66th running of the Cup Series

Daytona 500 on Sunday (FOX). Reigning season champion Ryan Blaney looks to pick up where he left off, while Ricky Stenhouse Jr. aims to become only the fifth driver to win back-to-back Daytona 500s (Denny Hamlin last did it in 2019-20).

Highlights of the 2024 Cup Series schedule include a return to concrete for the Food City 500 spring race at Bristol (March 17, FOX) after three years racing on a dirt track. North Carolina's North Wilkesboro Speedway hosts the All-Star Race for the second straight year (May 19, FS1). The Cup Series holds its first ever race at Iowa Speedway for the Iowa Corn 350 (June 16, USA Network). After a rain-soaked inaugural race, NASCAR returns to the streets of downtown Chicago for the Grant Park 165 (July 7, NBC). The Brickyard 400 goes back to the oval at Indianapolis Motor Speedway (July 21, NBC), and the playoffs Round of 16 begins at the Quaker State 400 at Atlanta Motor Speedway (Sept. 8, USA Network).

THE DEPTH CHART

NHL All-Star Break

Hockey's best head to Toronto, with the NHL All-Star Skills contest (Feb. 2, ESPN) offering a $1 million prize for the winner. The All-Star Game (Feb. 3, ABC) again features a four-team, 3-on-3 tournament.

Pro Bowl Games

The NFL's second Pro Bowl Games take place in Orlando, Florida, featuring the AFC vs. NFC in skills competitions (Feb. 1, ESPN) and the 7-on-7 flag football game (Feb. 4, ABC & ESPN). Peyton and Eli Manning return as head coaches.

NBA All-Star Weekend

The All-Star showcase returns to Indianapolis for the first time since 1985. TNT's All-Star Saturday Night events take place Feb. 17, with the following night's All-Star Game going back to the classic East vs. West format.

College Basketball

March Madness is nigh, but February is first. Top men's hoops games include Houston at Kansas (Feb. 3, ESPN), Gonzaga at Kentucky (Feb. 10, CBS), Kansas at Oklahoma (Feb. 17, ESPN) and Houston at Baylor (Feb. 24, CBS).

SHŌGUN

1 SHOGUN

Tuesdays beginning Feb. 27 on FX
NEW SERIES!

Based on the epic 1975 novel that also inspired the Richard Chamberlain miniseries in 1980, this new series takes place in feudal Japan and follows the rise of Lord Toranaga, a powerful Japanese magnate, through the eyes of an English sailor named John Blackthorne — a character modeled after William Adams, the first English navigator to reach Japan in 1600. Many of the other characters were modeled after real historical figures important to Japanese culture as well, including Lord Toranaga, played by Hiro Sanada.

"I played that role before. I played him twice. And also his opponent, Ishida Mitsunari," said Sanada, who was also a producer on the show for the first time. "I already learned about the real history as a Japanese actor. This one is an original character. Because this is based on the novel, I tried to forget history and focus on this new version of the script."

"Initially I think we came at these characters thinking we could broaden what they did or even deepen some of the mischief," said Rachel Kondo, a cowriter and coproducer who spearheaded this series with her husband, Justin Marks, who is also a cowriter and executive producer. "But we had to remember that we were working with figures who have been studied, figures who exist in the consciousness of a nation. We had to really understand that we need to write to the spirit of the character and not just make random inventions that would suit our purposes."

Though it is a historical series akin to The Last Kingdom, part of what makes the show so successful is that you don't have to be a history buff to enjoy it, because its focus on character and story highlights timeless themes: forbidden love, betrayal, secret alliances, and all the aspects that unfortunately arise when power is shifted and sought after. "It is a very universal drama," added Sanada. "Not just action, not just violence, geisha, stereotypes. Very universal, very poetic. I love it."

"He was really a master storyteller," said Marks of Shōgun author James Clavell and the 1,152 pages of source material they worked from. "There are areas in the latter half that we had to condense, simplify or just heighten for specific reasons that will become clear. But everyone came together with a shared affection for the book."

The show, which was shot in and around Vancouver, is visually impressive as well. It's clear a lot of work was put into accuracy and presentation. "We had to bring Japan to Canada. And we really did. In terms of quantity, I feel like we brought half the population, the crew of the show," Marks said. "In the early days, it was taking so long, because you're trying to get 200 extras out there in full nakazori with all their costumes and the obis tied right and it's taking so long because we're all trying to learn our way through these costumes. So, we thought to just bring our whole wardrobe department over from Japan because they can tie an obi in five seconds flat. Then suddenly the extras are showing up on time and everything was going fast."

"IT IS A VERY UNIVERSAL DRAMA. NOT JUST ACTION, NOT JUST VIOLENCE, GEISHA, STEREOTYPES. VERY UNIVERSAL, VERY POETIC. I LOVE IT." — HIRO SANADA

"Every single costume that came to the studio, I checked, I taught how to wear," Sanada added. "A French designer creating kimonos, but he doesn't know how to wear one!"

This was only one of many challenges the crew faced; in addition to making it historically and regionally accurate, there were several language barriers to break through, both on set and onscreen. Much of the show is in Japanese, and many of the actors are from Japan.

"The process of translation was very complicated, and it went through a number of people in this giant telephone game that we did to polish it to get it to what it is," Marks added. "Even the design of the font and the positioning of the font and the timing of the words onscreen was something that we would go through very carefully. If you look at the subtitles on our show, they're higher than most subtitles onscreen. They're closer to the actor's face. I hate the dive going up and down."

"We went back and forth many times," Sanada agreed. "It was like a jigsaw puzzle. When we completed the 10 episodes, I was like, 'Yes!'"

2 THE WALKING DEAD: THE ONES WHO LIVE

Sundays beginning Feb. 25 on AMC
NEW SERIES!

Fans of The Walking Dead have been waiting for-ev-er to find out what happened to leader Rick Grimes (Andrew Lincoln), who was presumed dead at the end of Season 9 when he exploded a bridge to save his warrior wife Michonne (Danai Gurira) and their people. What Michonne and the rest of the survivors didn't know was that a severely injured Rick was saved (or was it abducted?) by the former Scavengers leader Jadis (Pollyanna McIntosh) and her allegiance with the Civic Republic Military (CRM). But in the series finale, four years later, we got a new glimpse of Rick, barefooted on a walker-infested beach, where a CRM helicopter hovers with a man telling him to surrender as "there's no escape for the living," while his lover Michonne desperately tries to find him. While Jadis' connection with the CRM was explained in World Beyond, here we caught up with McIntosh for her insights on the six-episode new series The Ones Who Live.

Pollyanna
McIntosh

On returning to her character and the cast: The first day, I was really looking forward to getting back in the skin of Jadis; she's so paced at how she deals with things and she's constantly watchful of everything else that's going on so that she can ensure she makes the best play. She's like a chess player in my head, and there's something very comfortable for me about sitting in that character. It slows me down a little. I'm much more naturally hyperactive than Jadis, so I was kind of looking forward to just putting on the heavy boots and getting weighted. And the first day, the first work that Andy [Andrew Lincoln] and I did together was a very intense scene. It just didn't disappoint in the playfulness, the emotion, the joy, the high fives between takes.

Is Jadis friend or enemy? We've already found out about Jadis' background with the Civic Republic on Walking Dead: World Beyond; she has a strong position as a warrant officer there. She takes her job very seriously and she believes that the Civic Republic and military are doing the right thing for the future of humanity. But Rick Grimes has a way of looking at things a little differently, and there's some conflict of opinion there. So I'd say she's challenged in this show perhaps more than we've ever seen her be challenged before.

On the ending: I'm very satisfied. There's some extraordinary stuff in there. There's an exploration of the male experience that I think I've certainly been missing in a lot of other things I've been watching. And there's a lot of action, which I love — you can see and feel it and understand what's happening and be in the moment with the characters.

Prepare for some emotions: It's not black and white. I think that's one of the reasons that people love it so much is that the show understands the nuance of being a human. And life ain't black and white, it's complicated. I would say watch it with somebody you can squeeze the hand of, that you can hide in the shoulder of, and that will be there to hold you when you're having a good cry. — Barb Oates

3 TRACKER

Sundays beginning Feb. 11 on CBS

NEW SERIES!

This Is Us ended its six-season run in 2022, but Justin Hartley, who played Kevin, didn't have to look far for his next project once he read Jeffery Deaver's The Never Game at the urging of Ken Olin, executive producer and director of both This Is Us and Tracker. The novel, about a skilled "reward seeker" named Colter Shaw who solves mysteries with his tracking skills, instantly resonated with the actor. Here, Hartley — who also serves as an executive producer on the series — reveals more.

This is different from This Is Us and your character Kevin Pearson ... or is it?

Justin Hartley: I carry Kevin with me a little bit into this role. This is an action thriller and Colter's circumstances are completely different. You've got the father and the question about what happened there. You've got family drama, you've got questions that there are no answers to. I think if you put Kevin in Colter's boots, he would be dead in a day. But that doesn't mean they don't have the same heart.

In the pilot, where Colter's hired to find a missing teenage boy, he says, "Everyone's looking for something." What is he looking for? He's searching for the answer to that question. He's a restless guy, and we'll unpeel it throughout the season, what his childhood was. We'll get into more detail about the relationship with his mother, his father, his brother, all that stuff.

Flashbacks were a big deal in This Is Us and they're also in Tracker's pilot. How much are they a part of the show? The flashbacks in the pilot are necessary to tell a quick story, like, "This is where this guy is." We'll get away from them a little bit more as the series goes on.

Premiering after the Super Bowl is a huge launch. Any pressure to deliver with the pilot? The more times people say, "Is there pressure?" the more I feel like maybe I should start feeling pressure. But it was the same thing with the This Is Us pilot. I knew it was very, very good and something I would remember for the rest of my life. That's how I feel about this. I know our show is great, and that's all you can do. — Jim Halterman

4 DEAL OR NO DEAL ISLAND

Mondays beginning Feb. 26 on NBC

NEW SERIES!

"The bones of Deal or No Deal are there, so fans of the original game will be happy," promises Joe Manganiello (True Blood, Magic Mike), who hosts this juiced-up, island-centric version of the game show. Yes, the briefcases containing big bucks are back — but with Fear Factor and Big Brother on the resumé of the creative team, expect a very different spin on the 2005-09 NBC hit hosted by Howie Mandel (now an executive producer). The competition series finds 13 contestants dropped onto an undisclosed jungle island where they are left to duke it out for cases worth millions and millions of dollars that are hidden all over this island. "The lowest-value cases put people up for elimination. The highest-value cases give people the power to choose who faces the Banker in a game of Deal or No Deal in a temple," Manganiello shares. At the heart of the show are the personal stories attached to the competitors that are at times uplifting and at times heartbreaking. "The social experiment is what always fascinated me about Survivor, and that is very much in play." — Jim Halterman

GENIUS: MLK/XThursdays beginning Feb. 1 on NAT GEO
SEASON PREMIERE!MLK
played by Kelvin
Harrison Jr.MALCOLM X
played by
Aaron Pierre

Nat Geo's award-winning anthology series Genius will focus on two iconic geniuses — Martin Luther King Jr. and Malcolm X — and how their dueling philosophies helped usher America through the Civil Rights Movement. The eight-part series features Kelvin Harrison Jr. (The Trial of the Chicago 7) as King and Aaron Pierre (The Underground Railroad) as Malcolm. "[King's] story has been told so many times over by actors, documentarians, etc.," shares Harrison. "So, my question for myself was, 'What am I contributing to his legacy that is expansive to what we have already been privileged to receive?' The writing of the show is exciting because it was truly about a man who had a calling, and the one who has been called is not always prepared to go on that journey. There's anxiety. There's fear. There's impostor syndrome. There's that desire that we all have to just live with the person we love or our children or our families. What does it feel like to overcome personal obstacles for your calling, for your people? And if I could answer those questions for myself, then I feel like so many other people would be able to identify with him as well, and that would be more important than receiving him as only a legend. We would be receiving him as a human being who was humble and selfless enough to give himself to a cause much greater than him, and that's what I felt I could contribute to his legacy."

GOSPELMonday, Feb. 12 &
Tuesday, Feb. 13 on PBSNEW SERIES!

Henry Louis Gates Jr. hosts this four-hour docuseries (two hourlong episodes air on both days) that explores what he calls "the beating heart and soul" of the African American experience: gospel music. The series explores the rich history of Black spirituality through sermon and song from its early days, when the music was influenced by blues and jazz, to the modern era, when gospel music has become mainstream and songs about faith reach millions in clubs, on cable TV and on urban radio. As he journeys through gospel's history, Gates speaks with dozens of clergymen, singers and scholars about their connection to this music. Notable names interviewed in the series include Dionne Warwick, U.S. Sen. Raphael Warnock, Rev. Otis Moss III and Professor Michael Eric Dyson.

GOSPEL LIVE!(COMPANION CONCERT)

Friday, Feb. 9 on PBS

Gospel will be preceded a few days earlier by an hourlong companion concert called Gospel Live! John Legend and more share songs arranged with music director Alonzo "Zo" Harris.

THE SPACE RACE

Monday, Feb. 12 on NAT GEO

Diego Hurtado de Mendoza and Lisa Cortés directed this feature-length documentary that weaves together the stories of the Black astronauts, pilots, scientists and engineers who sought to break the bonds of social injustice and reach for the stars, serving their country in space even as their country failed to achieve equality for them back on Earth. From 1963, when the JFK assassination thwarted Capt. Ed Dwight's quest to reach the moon, to 2020, when the echoes of the civil unrest sparked by the killing of George Floyd reached the International Space Station, this film shows how the story of African Americans at NASA is a tale of world events colliding with the aspirations of uncommon pioneers. Dwight, a former test pilot, is among those pioneers featured in the film, along with aerospace engineer Guion Bluford, former NASA administrator/retired U.S. Marine Corps Maj. Gen. Charles Bolden, astronaut/geologist Jessica Watkins and others.

ELSBETH

Thursdays beginning
Feb. 29 on CBS
NEW SERIES!

"She's unique and unorthodox. She's colorful. She's a scatterbrained genius." Can't wait to meet the character detailed by Emmy winner Carrie Preston? You already have! Elsbeth Tascioni, Preston's scrappy Chicago defense attorney from The Good Wife and The Good Fight, has landed her own witty spinoff.

"I feel like one of the luckiest actresses around because almost nobody gets the opportunity to play the same character on three different shows!" Preston says.

When the series opens, Elsbeth has left Chicago and moved to New York City, as she has been brought in by the Justice Department on what's called a consent decree. "In essence, she needs to babysit the NYPD and make sure they don't do anything illegal or litigious," Preston says. "To the cops, she's this crazy lady who keeps sticking her nose in their business, but it turns out Elsbeth is a brilliant de facto detective and gets involved in solving cases." The series also stars Wendell Pierce and Carra Patterson. — Ileane Rudolph

WITH JANE AUSTEN

Saturdays in February on
HALLMARK CHANNEL

Hallmark Channel is back with its annual celebration of love just in time for Valentine's Day. This year, all four original movies will be inspired by the work of Jane Austen, the beloved author of several 19th century classic novels critiquing marriage in high society. The new films include Paging Mr. Darcy (Feb. 3), An American in Austen (Feb. 17), a Hallmark Mahogany presentation of Sense and Sensibility (Feb. 24), and Love & Jane (Feb. 10), which follows a career woman (Alison Sweeney) and leader of her local Jane Austen book club who is stuck in life and love but finds guidance from her literary hero after she suddenly appears in her living room and helps her move forward in more ways than one. "It's a different angle," says Sweeney of her character, Lilly, who, when her date accuses her of not being of this generation, charmingly expresses, "Well, who wants to be? TikTok is something a clock does."

"The story is really about Lilly learning who she is and working on herself and just seeing herself in a new way that allows love to come into her life, as opposed to finding the right guy," Sweeney adds. "And we're all learning a little lesson from Jane Austen along the way." — Zhanna Slor

The Harlem Hellfighters in 1918

10 THE HARLEM HELLFIGHTERS

Sunday, Feb. 4 on HISTORY

Good Morning America co-anchor Robin Roberts narrates and executive produces one of the most heroic stories you've never heard. This one-hour documentary shares the story of the sacrifice, bravery and contributions made by one of World War I's best military regiments — the 15th National Guard, which would become a part of the 369th Infantry, also known as the Harlem Hellfighters. In the face of nearly impossible odds, these men achieved the extraordinary, overcoming both the grueling realities of modern war against the Germans, and racism, segregation and prejudice at home in the United States. "The story of the Harlem Hellfighters is one that showcases tremendous courage and sacrifice that has been largely overlooked," said Roberts. "That changes now. I am thrilled to ... highlight a critical piece of American history that celebrates heroes whose global and national contributions deserve to be recognized."

11 I WASN'T EXPECTING A BABY!

Thursdays beginning Feb. 8 on LIFETIME
NEW SERIES!

To hear you're having a baby when you had no idea is one thing, but to hear you are having a baby, like, right now — absolutely shocking.

"It continues to blow my mind every single time I see a story," tells executive producer Jesse Light. She's talking about cryptic pregnancies, where a woman is clueless that she's pregnant until she is basically giving birth. The stats on it are even more staggering, as one in 2,500 pregnancies are cryptic, and for some women they had a somewhat normal menstruation cycle the entire time. Lifetime shares these unbelievable stories in this fast-paced, almost edge-of-your-seat series.

"When a baby comes and it's not in the hospital, that's always crazy to me, and we do have a lot of that," Light adds. "Some of these women thought they had to go to the bathroom, or they had a kidney stone, or a hernia, or an appendicitis — the list goes on and on and on, but before you know it there's a head sticking out of them and they are in the bathtub of their house giving birth."

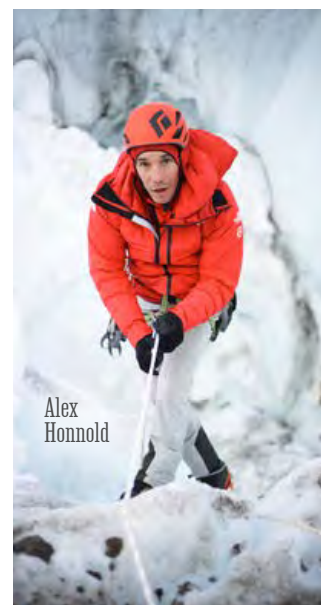

Unique to the series is the actual format of the show that includes each woman's social media posts (photos and videos) so viewers can clearly see how these pregnancies could go undetected. While these stories are definitely wild, creators also want to spread awareness of these symptoms to better educate women to advocate for their health. — Barb Oates

12 ARCTIC ASCENT WITH ALEX HONNOLD

Sunday, Feb. 4 on NAT GEO

"It looked like death," shares Alex Honnold, one of the world's greatest climbers, on Greenland's 3,750-foot, massive Arctic sea cliff Ingmikortilaq (known as "The Separate One"). Anyone who has watched Honnold scale Yosemite's El Capitan in the edge-of-your-seat documentary Free Solo will want to join him on this next documented climb.

Alex Honnold

"Ultimately what's at stake with climbing is your life," Honnold admits. "You could die a lot of different ways on a wall." As you listen to his rhythmic breaths and gear clinking, and watch his bare fingers clutching the frozen rock, your own heart is going to start racing. The three-part documentary follows Honnold, along with world-class climbers Hazel Findlay and Mikey Schaefer, as they attempt to summit Ingmikortilaq, a feat no one has attempted until now.

13 SUPER BOWL LVIII

Sunday, Feb. 11 on CBS

An event that needs no hype takes place in a city that thrives on it. Super Bowl LVIII (that's 58 for those who struggle with Roman math) between the NFL's AFC and NFC champions is played at Allegiant Stadium in Las Vegas. It's the first time "The Entertainment Capital of the World" hosts America's biggest annual TV spectacle. Last year, an average of 115.1 million people watched the Kansas City Chiefs beat the Philadelphia Eagles 38-35 in Super Bowl LVII on FOX, making it the most-watched U.S. TV program of all time. This time around, CBS airs the game with Jim Nantz and Tony Romo calling the action, R&B megastar Usher performing at halftime, and advertisers spending big money on commercials (about $7 million for 30 seconds) hoping you'll spend big money on candy, snacks, beer, carbonated beverages, electric vehicles and items from questionable online marketplaces. If you're still awake after the prolonged postgame celebration, CBS premieres the new drama Tracker. — Ryan A. Berenz

15 CRIME NATION

Tuesdays

beginning Feb. 20
on THE CW

NEW SERIES!

True crime comes to The CW for the first time in this new docuseries produced by former ABC News president James Goldston. With a more modern approach, which will include coverage of not only real crimes committed in the U.S. and how they are solved, but also the recent uptick in involvement of online citizen enthusiasts, the show aims to spotlight a variety of criminal cases, both solved and unsolved. "All of that attention on true crime not only reflects the kind of coverage there is of true crime, it's actually started to affect the investigation — how these crimes are solved, how the police go about trying to find people," Goldston shares. "You have amateur sleuths all over the world getting involved in a way that they never did before, sometimes in ways that are good and sometimes not very good. The aim of the show is to sort of pull back the curtain a little bit on that, and really show the good, bad, and ugly of modern true-crime reporting and investigation. Some of these stories are just incredibly psychologically fascinating, and obviously they raise profound issues of our times as well." — Zhanna Slor

ORIGINAL SERIES

Mr. & Mrs. Smith Available Feb. 2

When Atlanta's Donald Glover called Francesca Sloane suggesting they cocreate a series inspired by Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie's hit 2005 film, Sloane wasn't sure it would work. "But then he explained the idea of taking something that is such a saturated genre and subverting it," she says. "That felt absolutely intriguing." The result is eight episodes of what Sloane calls "a remix" featuring Glover and Pen15's Maya Erskine as John and Jane Smith. "We focus on the quieter moments," she says, while promising there will still be elements from the film: "shoot-'em-ups and really exciting action." Despite lots of nods to the original, the series does switch up the movie's premise. These Smiths are not unhappily married when we meet them. They're new hires that a mysterious agency orders to play husband and wife while undertaking dangerous kill missions. "We really wanted them to be strangers so that we can see the entire relationship unfold in front of our eyes," Sloane explains. "That way, you're seeing two people learn to be vulnerable when real feelings come into play as they face daily life-and-death situations." — Ileane Rudolph

ORIGINAL SERIES

Constellation

Available Feb. 21 (First 3 Episodes); New Episodes Wednesdays

This compelling psychological thriller takes us to the cosmos and back as astronaut Jo (Noomi Rapace) survives a disaster onboard the International Space Station, only to return to a life she no longer recognizes. Part spooky sci-fi thriller, part international cultural hodgepodge, the show excels at both story and character, helped by an amazing cast. Newcomer twin child actresses Davina and Rosie Coleman are especially impressive, and Jonathan Banks does a stellar job costarring as a former astronaut and Nobel Prize-winning scientist Henry — a far cry from his role as Breaking Bad professional fixer Mike Ehrmantrout.

"I've known Jonathan for a very long time. I've worked with him a lot," said Michelle MacLaren, director of this new series, who was also an executive producer on Breaking Bad. "I know how talented he is, and I thought this would be a really great role for him, different from anything that he's ever done. I think he had a really good time playing it. And then the other astronauts, our casting people brought them in from all over the place. Israel, France, England. We spent a lot of time finding everybody."

Because much of this takes place inside a space station, the show was uniquely challenging to make, but undoubtedly well researched. "We had several different consultants. One of them was Scott Kelly, the astronaut," MacLaren added. "I said, 'How would you secure a body to do surgery?' And Scott said, 'Duct tape. We use duct tape for everything.' Now I know way more about the International Space Station than I ever thought that I would. I think if I jetted up there right now, I could probably find my way around." Space and science notwithstanding, the mystery unfolding on Earth alone will keep you at the edge of your seat! — Zhanna Slor

The New Look

Available Feb. 14 (First 3 Episodes); New Episodes Wednesdays

"All I ever wanted to do was design the most beautiful women's clothing that ever existed," muses Christian Dior (Ben Mendelsohn) in the premiere of this 10-episode series depicting his rise to fashion fame, his rivalry with Coco Chanel (Juliette Binoche) and his terrifying years in Nazi-occupied Paris. (Dior survived by working for French couturier Lucien Lelong, played by John Malkovich, and making gowns for German officers' wives and girlfriends.)

"Dior, Chanel and others [of that era] have been icons for decades. This is the untold story of the people behind these names," says executive producer Todd A. Kessler. "They knew each other and were forced to make life-or-death decisions during World War II."

After the war, Dior ascended. His style (cinched waist, full skirt, rounded shoulders) was dubbed "the new look" by Harper's Bazaar editor-in-chief Carmel Snow (Glenn Close). The production re-created Dior's first collection from 1947, thanks to unprecedented access to the Dior Archives. "Dior's life was defined by his desire to bring beauty and spirit back to the world after the war," Kessler says, "to help the world rise from the ashes, to live again, to dream again." — Kate Hahn

FINAL SEASON

Curb Your Enthusiasm

Available Feb. 4

After a total of 24 years and 12 seasons, Seinfeld cocreator Larry David's romp through a fictional depiction of his actual life is, alas, coming to an end. Goodbye to David's misanthropic, persistently cranky alter ego. Adios to rambling, absurdist storylines, most based on minor misunderstandings that ballooned into big deals, leaving characters in perpetual states of bewildered bickering. We're also saying goodbye to David's brilliant band of costars, which includes

Cheryl Hines (wife Cheryl through Season 7, ex-wife thereafter), Jeff Garlin (best friend and manager Jeff) and Susie Essman (Jeff's wife, Susie). And farewell to the many guest celebrities who've been game to improvise entire episodes based on scene outlines rather than scripts. — Maura Rhodes
