RANDOM RANTS & RAVES

The Actors Strike Is Over — Now What?

January is looking amazing for new TV series starting with Jodie Foster headlining HBO's new season of True Detective, and then there's FX's highly anticipated Feud: Capote vs. The Swans, Showtime's The Woman in the Wall, Long Island medium Theresa Caputo returning to TV and more. As for your favorite broadcast series, usually fall shows would return in September (or October) and include seasons with 20-22 episodes that run through May — that, of course, won't be happening. As a result of the strike, we can anticipate seasons that are closer to 10-13 episodes and that may vary. Some shows (especially new ones) have already been or will be delayed to the 2024-25 season. Below are a handful of popular series with official premiere dates (see also Returning Favorites on page 7 for January premieres) to keep you in the know.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY!

Notable TV series, episodes, networks and/or events marking anniversaries this month.

By Jeff Pfeiffer

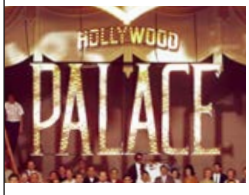

65 YEARS AGO

RAWHIDE

This classic Western starring Eric Fleming and Clint Eastwood, with its popular and catchy title theme performed by Frankie Laine, aired from Jan. 9, 1959-Dec. 7, 1965, on CBS.

60 YEARS AGO

THE HOLLYWOOD PALACE

This variety show was a (mostly) Saturday night tradition on ABC from Jan. 4, 1964-Feb. 7, 1970.

Andrew Lincoln in The Walking Dead: The Ones Who Live

Dead* story I want to know is what happened to Rick Grimes (Andrew Lincoln's character). When is that ever going to air, and are we going to have to go to the theater to see it? — Kyle

AMC is committed to seeing this story through and will be airing The Walking Dead: The Ones Who Live, which will share what happened to Rick Grimes and Michonne, starting Feb. 25. The program is being hyped as an epic love story of these two characters who were changed by this war against the dead and ultimately a war against the living, and then kept apart by distance. Whether they find each other is yet to be uncovered.

Final Episode Of "Blue Bloods"

I read that Blue Bloods is ending for good, which saddens me, as I've felt part of the Reagan family for years (I just love their family dinner). Would another network pick up this series? — Hazel

Blue Bloods will be ending with its 14th season, which will be divided up into two parts. The first part is set to premiere on Friday, Feb. 16, in its usual 10/9pm time slot, and the rest of the season will be part of CBS' fall 2024 lineup. "For the past 13 years it has been an honor and a privilege to work on a show that not only celebrates the men and women who protect and serve in New York City, but also displayed the importance of family," said series star Tom Selleck in a statement.

Congratulations!

5 QUESTIONS WITH KELLY SIEGLER OF OXYGEN'S "PROSECUTING EVIL"

By Jacqueline Cutler

If you are the victim of a crime, Kelly Siegler is the prosecutor you want. The unflinching crusader for justice is back on TV with Prosecuting Evil With Kelly Siegler.

The docuseries airs on Oxygen Saturdays through Jan. 20 (you can stream on Peacock, as well). Siegler, a former Harris County, Texas, prosecutor, revisits homicides that mesmerize and repulse years later, explaining the murders and courtroom strategies and showcasing interviews with those involved. Here she reflects on these cases and answers our "5 Questions."

1 What are the criteria for making it onto the show? We were looking for cases that were not just investigations but also went to trial, so that we could talk about the trial, strategizing and the investigation, and obviously the facts of the crime itself. We tried to get all the cases where family members or close friends were onboard and wanted to talk. We needed to make sure that our cops all want to talk, and the prosecutors want to talk, so we wanted to have all the main players excited to be interviewed. And we tried to get a different group of cases.

2 How do you define evil? I think that some people are just born evil. And I think that you can try to analyze them all day long and they're just born that way. It's not their parents' fault. It just happens and you can't fix it. And you just have to figure out if you can catch them and you can convict them and if you can lock them away. That's the only way you can deal with evil.

3 What was an early job that influenced you? I had a job where I was being paid to clean toilets and mop floors after bingo was over — every Sunday. It was $50 and it took me way too long to move all those tables and mop the floor and clean toilets after people threw up from a dance the night before. I thought to myself, "I sure as hell don't want to do this the rest of my life."

4 In the pilot, you mention that female prosecutors weren't allowed to wear pants when you were on the job. (She resigned from the DA's office in 2008.) Could you elaborate on that? To even get the pantsuits considered, our elected DA had four different women go to Dillard's or wherever and buy those pantsuits that were matchy-matchy. It had to be those, and they had to come to work on a Friday and put on a fashion show and walk around in front of him and twirl and show him their outfit. And then he allowed us to wear pants on Fridays, only on Fridays. And it had to be those kinds of pantsuits that passed the dress code fashion show. Isn't that crazy?

5 What's the ideal day for you? Sitting in my house reading a book or watching one of my favorite TV shows and eating chocolate chip cookies.

RETURN FLIGHT

The NFL Season Ends With A Trip To Vegas, Baby! By Ryan A. Berenz

What happens in Vegas could include Jalen Hurts and the Philadelphia Eagles

NFL Postseason Schedule

AFC and NFC Wild Card Playoffs Jan. 13-15 (ABC/ESPN, CBS, FOX, NBC & Peacock)

AFC and NFC Divisional Playoffs Jan. 20-21 (CBS, FOX & NBC)

AFC and NFC Championship Games Jan. 28 (CBS & FOX)

Pro Bowl Games Feb. 1 & 4 (ABC & ESPN)

Super Bowl LVIII in Las Vegas Feb. 11 (CBS)

Super Bowl LVII last February between the Kansas City Chiefs and the Philadelphia Eagles was a high-scoring, entertaining affair. The Chiefs mounted a second-half comeback and kicked a field goal with eight seconds left to seal a 38-35 win and the franchise's second title in four seasons.

Could there be an encore? Quarterback Patrick Mahomes, tight end Travis Kelce and the Chiefs are still among the AFC's elite heading into the playoffs. The Eagles soared over the NFC all season with stellar play from quarterback Jalen Hurts and wide receiver A.J. Brown. The Eagles bested the Chiefs 21-17 in a Week 11 Monday Night Football thriller, setting the stage for an enticing Super Bowl rematch, which hasn't happened in consecutive years since the Dallas Cowboys beat the Buffalo Bills in the 1992-93 seasons.

Other top contenders in the AFC include the Baltimore Ravens, the Jacksonville Jaguars, the Miami Dolphins and the Cleveland Browns. In the NFC, the Eagles could be tested by the long-suffering Detroit Lions, who haven't won an NFL championship since 1957 and have been winless in the playoffs since 1991. Other legit Super Bowl hopefuls in the NFC include the Dallas Cowboys and the San Francisco 49ers.

The regular season concludes in Week 18 on Sunday, Jan. 7, and postseason play kicks off Jan. 13-15 with Super Wild Card Weekend, followed by the divisional round Jan. 20-21 and the conference championships Jan. 28. Then it's two weeks of hype before Super Bowl LVIII takes place at Allegiant Stadium in fabulous Las Vegas.

THE TOP 20

A QUICK RUNDOWN OF WHAT'S NEW THIS MONTH

Jodie Foster and Kali Reis

TRUE DETECTIVE: NIGHT COUNTRY

1 TRUE DETECTIVE: NIGHT COUNTRY

Sundays beginning Jan. 14 on HBO

SEASON PREMIERE!

Five years after the last season ended, and about as far as one can go from Arkansas, True Detective returns us to the heart of dark crime thrillers with a new showrunner and a new, unusual location: Arctic Alaska. Set entirely at night, during winter, the new season, written and directed by Issa López, follows two detectives (Jodie Foster and Kali Reis) as they investigate the mysterious disappearance of a group of research scientists. "This is the type of role that we have not seen Jodie Foster play, and I think it's so delightful and so naughty," says López of the casting. "I've never had a collaborator like Jodie Foster. Not only is she, I think, the best actor of her generation, it's such a pleasure to bring her into a role like that, back at the center of the conversation. She was so happy, having so much fun, and that sets the tone for the entire cast."

This might surprise some viewers, considering the prickly, cantankerous (and extremely entertaining) nature of Foster's character, Detective Liz Danvers. In fact, nearly every character here is battling their own inner demons in some way. This show is dark in more ways than one. Time becomes more elusive as the episodes progress without a single scene in daylight, but what stands out even more than that is how damaged some of these Arctic inhabitants are, and how grisly the crimes become. Maybe so much darkness will inevitably make people dark, too, or maybe they're dysfunctional for other reasons, but there are very few healthy relationships in Ennis, Alaska, and more than a few ghosts — literal and otherwise.

"It's a meditation on loneliness," López explains. If any one word could describe this season, it would definitely be that one. Not just because this small Arctic town is rather isolated, cold to the point of being deadly and underpopulated, but because the only people who seem to have much of a family life or a community are the Indigenous population, who, amid the murder investigation, are rallying together to protest against a mining corporation that keeps half the town employed but is also slowly poisoning them with radioactive output. All of this eventually comes to a head, with locals at each other's throats by the end.

Night Country is right on. With so many heavy topics at play, it's a small miracle that the cast and crew were mostly unaffected by the dark mood that permeates the series, which was filmed in Iceland.

"We never got the blues," López says. "I'm a Mexican who hates the cold. Nobody asked me to write this. But when I was there, it was so much fun. It was so incredible to be with this team. Iceland is gorgeous. Reykjavik is a beautiful tiny city with some of the best food in the world. A lot of the cast was Inuit, and they were in their element. And it was contagious, the enthusiasm and the love and the laughter. So, it was the opposite. When it was done and it was April and the days started to get longer, it was sad. It was hard to say goodbye to the long nights and go back into the world, which amazed us all."

Still, you may want to watch this one with the lights on.

— Zhanna Slor

2 THE WOMAN IN THE WALL

Sundays beginning Jan. 21 on SHOWTIME

NEW SERIES!

In this dark psychological thriller, Ruth Wilson stars as Lorna Brady, a distraught woman who suffers from chronic sleepwalking and begins to have trouble recognizing what is real and what isn't after she finds a woman dead in her home, with no recollection of how she got there or why. Complicating things is Detective Colman Akande (Daryl McCormack), who is investigating the murder of a priest in Dublin, the trail of which leads him to Lorna and her sleepy Irish town. The two murders, which are clearly connected, trigger a sequence of events that brings tragedies and past crimes to light.

Though the story is set in a fictional Irish town and around a fictional protagonist, it is based on the real-life history of the Magdalene laundries, convents where young women and teenagers were commonly sent if they got pregnant out of wedlock during the 18th century and well into the 1990s, when they were finally shut down. There, thousands of young women were forcibly separated from their babies and trapped into indentured servitude. The two murders being investigated, while important, mostly serve as a scaffolding to explore the various burdens and forms trauma can take and the consequences of abuse. This one might keep you up at night. — Zhanna Slor

3 FEUD: CAPOTE VS. THE SWANS

Wednesdays beginning Jan. 31 on FX

SEASON PREMIERE!

In a scene from the new eight-episode season of FX's Feud, writer Truman Capote (Tom Hollander) explains the sobriquet he gave to his inner circle of high-society lady friends.

"They are swans. Beautiful and unruffled above the water, stunning, singular, gliding through the pond of society," he says. "But God gave them too much baggage, you see. Underneath the crisp surface of the water, they have to paddle twice as fast and vigorously as an ordinary duck just to stay afloat. It's a great burden only some can bear."

Feud: Capote vs. The Swans, based on Laurence Leamer's Capote's Women: A True Story of Love, Betrayal, and a Swan Song for an Era, chronicles the In Cold Blood author's time among The Swans and how a thinly veiled exposé he published shattered their trust and led to his exile.

"The Swans loved to have Truman's attention to create a sort of muse experience, but at the same time, they loved him because he was such an incredible entertainer, a true eccentric," says Naomi Watts, who stars as Babe Paley and also executive produces. "But for these women — they were smart, yet I think there was this naivete or a blind spot. They assumed he would never go for the jugular and do the dirty on them."

Feud has moments in which one can't help but to step out of the story and realize the magnitude of talent seated at a single table or mingling in one frame of action in a party scene. In addition to the remarkable cast, Feud boasts what Watts calls "a brilliant, blow-your-doors-down kind of trio" in EP Ryan Murphy, director Gus Van Sant and writer Jon Robin Baitz. "And then you've got this incredible cast," Watts says. "I've also grown up watching and admiring all of these actresses, endlessly, for different reasons." Watts also praised Hollander for his take on the role that Philip Seymour Hoffman won an Oscar for in Capote. "I think Tom had the opportunity in this longer format to do something quite special, and I know he will move audiences in extraordinary ways." — Ryan A. Berenz

FINAL SEASON!

Hopefully we put a permanent lid on that massive sinkhole that opened up and swallowed a good portion of the Los Angeles population, as the third and final six-episode season arrives. Who of our favorite sinkhole survivors makes it out of the primeval land now filled with new auroras remains in question, as does what new things and people the survivors encounter. "We're going to open up some new avenues to reveal new people and new things that are down here," tells series creator and showrunner David Appelbaum. Buckle up, this is going to be fun!

6 THE PRISON CONFESSIONS OF GYPSY ROSE BLANCHARD

Friday, Jan. 5-Sunday, Jan. 7 on LIFETIME

THREE-NIGHT DOCUMENTARY!

HBO and Hulu first introduced us to Gypsy Rose Blanchard's story with the 2017 documentary Mommy Dead and Dearest and the 2019 fictionalized series The Act. In reality, Gypsy's story is one of heartbreak and disbelief. Now Lifetime brings unprecedented access to Gypsy Rose in this six-hour documentary special, filmed while she was still in prison. Born in 1991, Gypsy was raised by her mother, Dee Dee, who for years abused Gypsy by lying about her health. Dee Dee convinced family and friends that Gypsy suffered from many illnesses including leukemia to get attention and money, and required Gypsy to get a feeding tube and stay restricted to a wheelchair. In 2015, Dee Dee was stabbed to death and Gypsy's boyfriend was found guilty of the crime. The documentary features Gypsy in prison on the eve of her parole hearing as she recounts her emotional journey of being forced to remain a child. You'll hear her stories firsthand, including her prison wedding and seeing her fiancé, Ryan, for the first time. The doc also features fascinating yet troubling tales of Gypsy's secret love life and the depths of the psychological control her mother had on her. Never-before-seen photos, medical records, videos and evidence also bring hidden secrets to the surface and add new insights to this complex story, including Gypsy's life now, as a married woman.

7 THERESA CAPUTO: RAISING SPIRITS

Thursdays beginning Jan. 25 on LIFETIME

NEW SERIES!

With her blond locks teased to the moon, and that oh-so-familiar New York sass, Long Island medium Theresa Caputo returns to TV in a new unscripted series that catches fans up with her current life while delivering unforgettable connections to people who have lost a loved one. Here's what she had to share about her new series:

What made you want to return to TV?
Theresa Caputo: Even though I've been on TV for 10 years, touring for over 10 years, traveling the country for over 10 years, and then have taken my live show to the U.K., I still just love doing what I've always done. And that's going to people's homes, doing private readings, group readings, doing readings in my home, surprising people with readings. It kind of feels like life is back to normal, you might say.

What's different or new with the Lifetime series? My family is still a big part of the show, we just have new additions [daughter Victoria had a baby, Larry Jr. got married, she is divorced from Larry Sr.]. You really get to see more of the behind the scenes of what it really is like for me.

What do you want people to know about your gift? I want them to believe in an afterlife. I want them to believe and know that the things that they sense and feel that remind them of their loved ones, know that that's their loved one's soul. Getting their attention, reminding them that they are with you and sharing this experience with them right at that exact moment.

When your lights flicker unexplainably, is that from someone who passed? I always say to people, whatever goes on around you that you think is odd or weird or grabs your attention and you think of your loved one that has died, know that that is them, know that it is their energy and their soul. — Barb Oates

Rob Lowe

8 THE FLOOR

Tuesdays beginning Jan. 2 on FOX

NEW SERIES!

Rob Lowe hosts this quiz show in which 81 players who proclaim to be experts in a unique category — including stuff like famous sidekicks, junk drawer items, dogs, sports movies, birds, mobile apps, The Simpsons, and spices and condiments — occupy a space on a grid. A player is chosen at random to challenge another contestant in a fast-paced duel of knowledge, with the winner claiming the loser's space. Over 10 weeks, the player who conquers all the spaces on The Floor wins $250,000. "Of the 81 people, approximately eight are booted off every week. They lose and they're gone," Lowe says. "By the time you get to the end of the season, there are very few players left, and we've gotten to know them. We know that person's a killer. Or we know this person actually now is on a piece of the floor that isn't their area of expertise, so they might seem weak. So that kind of strategy element really is what makes the show special." — Ryan A. Berenz

9 AMERICA'S GOT TALENT: FANTASY LEAGUE

Mondays beginning Jan. 1 on NBC
NEW SERIES!

This latest extension of the America's Got Talent franchise, as its name implies, is set up similarly to a fantasy sports draft. Judges Simon Cowell, Heidi Klum, Howie Mandel and a returning Mel B will compete alongside the contestants as they draft their own dream teams of winners, finalists, viral sensations and fan favorites from across AGT and international Got Talent editions (Britain, Canada, Indonesia, Japan, Mongolia and Ukraine) and guide them through the competition. The winning act will receive a grand prize of $250,000, and the judge who drafted the act will earn bragging rights.

The studio audience votes each week to determine which acts will advance to the semifinals and final rounds. The show's Golden Buzzer will be back in the qualifiers and semifinal rounds, sending acts straight to the finals, but with a twist: Each judge can use their buzzer for their own act, or to take an act from another judge's team.

Among the 40 acts competing in Fantasy League are Adrian Stoica and Hurricane, an animal act from AGT Season 18; Chapel Hart, a musical group from AGT Season 17; Kseniya Simonova, a sand artist who won Season 1 of Ukraine's Got Talent and also appeared on AGT: The Champions Season 1; and Fritzy Rosmerian, a magician from Indonesia's Got Talent Season 3.

19 THE CURIOUS CASE OF NATALIA GRACE: NATALIA SPEAKS

Monday, Jan. 1-Wednesday, Jan. 3 on INVESTIGATION DISCOVERY

THREE-NIGHT DOCUSERIES!

This three-night docuseries continues the story of Natalia Grace, a Ukrainian woman with a rare form of dwarfism who was adopted in 2010 by Kristine and Michael Barnett. The new docuseries picks up from the previous The Curious Case of Natalia Grace (available to stream on Max) and is an emotional sit-down between Natalia and adoptive father Michael Barnett as they sit face-to-face for the first time and come to terms with the accusations that have been thrown around in both directions. This time, Natalia shares her side of the story, retracing her adoption saga and how much truth there actually is to the Barnetts' claim that Natalia was not a 6-year-old Ukrainian orphan with a rare genetic disorder, but rather a homicidal adult intent on harming them and their children. The series also shares a look at what life is like for Natalia with her new adoptive parents.

With the bright lights of London calling, Barbara packs her bags and heads to the city, where she looks to take the male-dominated world of comedy by storm. After a series of setbacks, she lands an audition for a TV show, and her uncompromising northern wit proves to be the X factor the series has been missing and becomes part of a groundbreaking new sitcom (using her stage name of "Sophie Straw"). Death and Other Details

First Two Episodes Available Jan. 16; New Episodes Tuesdays

In this love letter to the crime genre (with serious Agatha Christie vibes), a refreshingly charismatic Violett Beane stars as Imogene Scott, a hyper-astute femme fatale/amateur sleuth haunted by the unsolved death of her mother, who finds herself in the wrong place at the wrong time when she becomes the prime suspect in a murder investigation taking place on a lavish Mediterranean ocean liner. To prove her innocence, she must partner up with the world's great detective (played by Homeland's Mandy Patinkin), a man she grew up hating (she has her reasons!) but who is the only person who may be able to help her.

Though it is told in a classic whodunit style, the show is not only compelling, but it is also fun to watch, with plenty of levity included, too. "We wanted to do a classical kind of clue-to-clue murder mystery," said one half of the showrunning/writing team Mike Weiss. "I think that there is something about a well-plotted mystery, which is filled with secrets and clues and reverses and twists that turns into a game that the audience can play at home that people love, even if they love other genres as well. You can solve this mystery. It might take you nine more hours, but you can solve this mystery with all of the information that is hidden inside the pilot."

Aesthetically the show is a feast for the eyes as well, with a wardrobe that is both timeless and timely and makes you want to go shopping. "We really wanted to make something that would be a joy to watch and that would be ultimately entertaining for people above everything else, because that's honestly what I feel like watching myself," added Heidi Cole McAdams, co-showrunner and cowriter. "There's enough going on in the world that I want my entertainment to be fun."

Fun is definitely the best way to describe it, but you can tell the writing team put a lot of work into making the story cohesive and coherent while at the same time hard to predict. Plus, who doesn't want to watch Mandy Patinkin outsmart a bunch of rich people while half in the bag? — Zhanna Slor

Self Reliance

Available Jan. 12

In an era of Squid and Hunger Games, it doesn't sound too farfetched: Avoid assassins for 30 days and win $1 million. Jake Johnson (New Girl, Minx), who wrote and directed the comedy, also stars as Tommy Walcott, the schlub who can't say no — especially when pitched by Andy Samberg, playing himself in the 2024 film. What's more, Tommy finds a loophole: If he's with someone, the killers can't shoot. Since no one he actually knows believes this bonkers reality show exists, he hires an affable homeless guy (Biff Wiff, Jury Duty) as a kind of constant companion. Then he meets someone who says she's also in the game (Anna Kendrick, Pitch Perfect). And while frantically trying to survive, he learns something about needing others — whether he's a target or not. — Roger Catlin
