EDITOR'S NOTE

Always Surprised

I was out with my girlfriend group this past week and chatting about what's coming up on television this summer. They all pulled out their phones and jotted reminders in their Notes app on what sounds best to them. One of my friends commented she doesn't have FX anymore, as she only gets Netflix and Prime Video now. "Wow, what a mistake," I told her and proceeded to explain why. I see how it's easy for people to get lost in all the hype around streaming services as they spend a lot of money to promote their services and programs. And don't get me wrong — they do have some exceptional programming, but you're missing out on plenty if you limit yourself to just that. I'm a lifer for traditional cable/satellite with a few streaming add-ons. I know the programming that continues to be delivered on traditional cable is equally exceptional and requires no input changes, nor has buffering slowdowns. Look at this month alone with FX's The Old Man starring Jeff Bridges and John Lithgow in must-see performances; HGTV's The Great Giveback with Melissa McCarthy and her cousin Jenna Perusich melting your hearts; Lifetime's Buried in Barstow with Angie Harmon now on the other side of the law; History's After Jackie, which celebrates baseball great Jackie Robinson; AMC's gritty new Western series Dark Winds; PBS' The Great American Recipe; and so much more.

We've got it all captured inside — the best of traditional TV and streaming. Hopefully you know you've got more than enough to keep you entertained!

Happy viewing!

RANDOM RANTS & RAVES

■ Let's Give More Love To Animal Show Renewals

I am an animal lover and I really enjoy the shows on Animal Planet and Nat Geo Wild about the vets, from The Zoo and Dr. Pol, the vets from Nebraska and the ones from Tennessee. My complaint is I never see these shows listed as "Renewed" or "Canceled." What happened to Dr. Jeff: Rocky Mountain Vet? My home state is Colorado and I miss this show. Please give more recognition to these people as the work they all do, and the love and attention they give to those animals, goes above and beyond. I also enjoyed seeing what goes on behind the scenes at the zoo with the series Secrets of the Zoo and The Zoo. – Phyllis

You probably already know this, but Dr. Jeff returned with an all-new season on Animal Planet at the end of March. You are correct about his absence. He took time off to battle B-cell lymphoma, a blood cancer. Fans were thrilled to see the doctor return. We'll do our best to communicate anything we hear on renewals and cancellations as they pertain to these shows in future issues.

■ Bring On The Cursing!

I wish to add to what another reader ranted about in an earlier issue. I too wish to know why the TV-MA rating is no longer taken seriously? You used Once Upon a Time in Hollywood as an example for foul language on FX, but what about movies like Atomic Blonde and Red Sparrow? These are given MA ratings and aired in a PG-like form. We know some people are uncomfortable with nudity and swearing, but some of us enjoy uncut films, and it seems like mature audiences are not given the respect of networks when they falsify TV ratings. – Ryan

According to Bret Hampton, a film/video editor: "Program Practices and Standards supply lists of desired corrections to the studio/distributor who must make changes to get their film broadcast. Sometimes these are debated and some changes are left undone. It depends. I've edited movies for TV showings and sometimes we cut scenes or parts of scenes; other times we have alternate dialogue or entire scenes recorded without nudity/profanity. I remember recutting an entire feature to change an R rating to PG-13 for theaters. This happens all the time for broadcast, but not as much for cable, which allows more language but still seems to limit nudity."

■ What's With All The Executive Producers?

I really enjoy the information I get each month from your column. My question is, is it really needed to have so many producers and executive producers for a TV series? The Blacklist is a good example. The list of names on the opening credits seems almost endless. Are all these people necessary or is some of it an honorary salute? – Bruce

The executive producers are the management and money people behind movies and TV series. Their names often help sell a title as well. When you see a Steven Spielberg or a George Lucas behind a project, you take note. If a production runs out of money, executive producers are the ones who decide what gets further funding. They are ultimately responsible to the company that is funding the project. As you go down the list to producers, assistant producers, etc., roles and responsibilities change. Could they be reduced? Like in any business, I'm sure, but someone needs to pick up their job then too.

The event will also be available to stream live and on demand on Paramount+.

MTV Celebrates Movies & TV

MTV is returning to Santa Monica's Barker Hangar for its annual celebration of movies and TV. Spider-Man: No Way Home leads the Movie & TV Awards field of films with seven nominations, while Euphoria has the most nods among scripted television nominees with six. This year's Movies & TV Awards ceremony introduces two new categories: Best Song and Here for the Hookup.

5 QUESTIONS WITH SIMONE MISSICK OF OWN'S "ALL RISE" By Taylor Neumann

Fans of All Rise were thrilled to hear that the show – which was canceled at its original home on CBS in 2021 – was picked up by OWN for an unexpected third season, premiering June 7. So what's different now? "Well, I mean, we're reporting to Oprah herself, so ..." laughs star and executive producer Simone Missick, who plays Judge Lola Carmichael. "It's wonderful, because at OWN, they're very mindful of so many details, from how does Lola's hair look to what is Sherri [Ruthie Ann Miles] wearing this week. They're invested in all aspects of it." Viewers can expect an exciting new season, with Missick promising big things. "We will see old relationships revisited, current relationships and friendships tested, and romances blossoming. ... But we are still walking that fine line with our special All Rise brand of humor to take [our fans] on a true roller-coaster ride every episode." We caught up with Missick – who, despite battling a cold, was as warm and eloquent as her onscreen counterpart – to answer our "5 Questions."

1 What TV shows have you been watching lately?

I finished Euphoria. Every week, that show had me. I loved it. I am also catching up on The Home Edit on Netflix. That's been helping my organizational aspirations. ... And, of course, I am supporting my fellow castmate, Ryan Michelle Bathé, in her show on NBC, The Endgame.

2 What three things do you need to have in your fridge or pantry?

Kite Hill makes an amazing almond milk yogurt that I eat nearly every morning with Nature's Path pumpkin seed and flax granola. With blueberries. That has been my breakfast for about two years. It's so good. That and Bustelo coffee. My husband and I drink the espresso Bustelo like it's regular coffee!

3 What movie can you watch over and over?

Oh, Bridesmaids. I probably have seen that movie 100 times. I know every word. Lindsey Gort, who plays Amy Quinn [on All Rise], and I will often drop a line from Bridesmaids together and the other person will pick it up easily.

4 Have you ever been starstruck?

Yes, once, with Prince. And I did not go and speak to him. I was frozen in place. My girlfriend and I were at a nightclub in Hollywood, and I looked across the room and he was there. She's like, "Girl, you've got to go say hi to Prince." I was like, "I can't do it. I can't move." And I forever regret that moment.

5 Did you have any other jobs before becoming an actor?

Ooh, I had many jobs. I substitute taught for LAUSD [Los Angeles Unified School District] for about two years. I waited many tables throughout the Los Angeles area, various restaurants and hotels, none of which I will name because nearly all of them were awful establishments. But I met great people!

The Tampa Bay Buccaneers' Tom Brady teams up with the Green Bay Packers' Aaron Rodgers to compete against the Kansas City Chiefs' Patrick Mahomes and the Buffalo Bills' Josh Allen in a 12-hole, match-play golf event at Wynn Las Vegas. TNT airs the match live June 1, featuring players mic'd up and able to communicate — and talk trash — with each other and with the broadcast team. Brady is making his third appearance in The Match, and Rodgers is making his second. Mahomes and Allen are both first-timers. The five previous events have raised nearly $33 million for charities and provided roughly 17 million meals to Feeding America.

If watching golf played by golfers is more your thing, the USGA is holding major championship tournaments this month.

THE GREAT GIVEBACK

Cousins Melissa McCarthy and Jenna Perusich Create Beautiful Homes, But More Importantly, Share Beautiful Stories.

By Barb Oates

Kindness is so underrated.

There are a lot of amazing people doing some pretty extraordinary things for other people – you just don't hear about it very often.

Cousins Melissa McCarthy and Jenna Perusich set out to change that in their new six-episode series The Great Giveback With Melissa McCarthy and Jenna Perusich, which airs on HGTV Mondays beginning June 13. The series finds the house-obsessed ladies sharing stories of some kindhearted individuals who they surprise with a beautiful home transformation.

"I think right now you just need to be able to watch something that makes you feel really good and reminds you how good the simplest act of kindness can be," Melissa tells us. "[You] will like spending time with these lovely people. I know we did."

While most know Melissa from her Mike & Molly days or from her comedy hits Bridesmaids and Identity Thief, it's uplifting to see the superstar share her other talents alongside her equally talented cousin. Last month, Melissa and Jenna took time out of their crazy schedules to chat with us about this labor of love.

We first saw you two pair up on Celebrity IOU when you surprised Jenna's parents with a home makeover. Was that what led you both to The Great Giveback?

Melissa McCarthy: Doing Celebrity IOU was such a fantastic experience working with the fellas [Property Brothers Jonathan and Drew Scott]. Jenna and I, for years, we're both rather house obsessed. It's funny, my husband, Ben, is always like, "You two like rebuilding and destruction in equal parts. As soon as you get something done, you're like, 'Should we rip that down?'" So we're always kind of looking at a new way to do a space. ... And I think that's where our love of vintage comes in, too. But it's a natural extension of what we've done for friends and family for so many years. And then mixing that with being able to really shine the light on some incredible people who just do nothing but give of themselves, to give back to them, seemed like just a perfect marriage.

Jenna Perusich: Exactly. And really having such a personal connection to Celebrity IOU – those are my parents, that's Missy's [her nickname for Melissa] aunt and uncle. So we really got to see how changing someone's home, the space they live in, it just affects every day. It can lighten the load emotionally, and physically. It brightens the day. I saw that firsthand with my parents. ... When where you live feels good, you feel good. And so getting to extend that also into this project, that's really what it's all about.

So how humbling was it to learn about these individuals who you help?

Melissa: I have to say, maybe especially now more than ever, but I think Jenna and I both have always felt that the good in the world outweighs the bad. Getting to know these families and these people, it was such an incredible reminder that there's so much good in the world, and there's just more people out there than you can even imagine, that their daily routine is, "What can I do? How do I help? How do I make this better?" We just really wanted to shine the light on these amazing people and make everyone realize that we can all do a little something extra every day and it really has quite a ripple effect.

Jenna: Every person we met and worked with was good and giving and amazing, but in their own way. It wasn't always the highest peak of giving, either. You can be giving and impactful by entertaining someone during a dark time or just being kind and being an ear to listen to someone else. It really is a great reminder. It made me open my eyes to, like, what can I do on a Tuesday at 3pm in a Starbucks line to just be a better person?

How often are you two in tears?

Melissa: There weren't a lot of dry eyes on Great Giveback quite often.

Happy tears, emotional, overwhelming tears. Jenna and I are both kind of quick to go.

Jenna: Oh yeah. I thought the two of us, we lead with our emotions, and together it is like an open nerve, 24/7. We feel everything to the fullest.

At what point in this process are you two introduced to the individuals getting the renovation? Is this a surprise?

Melissa: Our lovely producers go in and are initially talking to people and they just know that they're being considered for a renovation, and that they've been nominated by someone who loves them. We really meet them almost at the very top of the process. They don't know that we're coming that day. They think they're just kind of doing a little interview, hoping to be considered for a renovation. And then we show up with their keys and then we ambush them.

How hands-on are you two in the actual renovation?

Melissa: Some would say too hands-on. I think Jenna and I were like, "We're just used to doing it." If we hadn't done things ourselves, we were like, "Well, great. This is where we learn to do it." Like, we never plastered. I want to know how to plaster. Now I know how to plaster. We wanted to lay tiles. We're both so into it, and we're both very creative, but we're also tactile. And we actually really like the doing of it. We have an amazing team and an amazing construction group and everything else. But we got in there, and I think people were shocked and probably confused by how much we were in there.

Jenna: We were hands-on 24/7. One thing that was really important to us from the get-go was each space shouldn't feel like how Melissa and I like to feel. It should feel like the people who live in that home. And so we wanted things to be different and specific and special, and every space to be the vibe of the owner or the person living in that home, because it's all about them. It's about making them feel good and inspired.

And what about the reveals?

Melissa: It's so exciting, and it's also so nerve-wracking. It is like everything's riding on it. You just want them to be so happy, and it's like nervous and crazy-feeling and exciting all at once. Because there is always the risk that they could come in and be like, "Oh wait, what?" And it's like, "Oh, oh my gosh. Well, we can't go back now."

How did you two get into the flea market scene?

Melissa: [Who grew up in Plainfield, Illinois] I've been going to vintage stores and thrift shops since early high school. I just loved it. I didn't have a lot of money for sure. When I was in high school, vintage was not cool, but I found it really cool. And I also loved the construction of vintage clothing. And then it's like, you start to branch out and you're like, "This $4 chair is amazing, if you just re-covered it." So then I got into upholstery. There's so many possibilities.

Jenna: I think we both had like a separate start because I grew up in Chicago and Miss was, I think, in New York by the time I was in high school. But separately, we were similar. In high school, I got really into vintage shopping. I took the train down to the North Side so I could pop into little shops, and it grew from liking the clothing to being like, "Yeah, that's cool. It's pretty interesting. Maybe I need to bring that light home." And then when we're both in Los Angeles together, it was like ... love is a light word. We are obsessed with this! And we fuel each other's flame.

BURIED IN BARSTOW

Saturday, June 4 on LIFETIME

ORIGINAL FILM!

After taking a few years off from acting, Angie Harmon – best known for her roles as Jane Rizzoli on Rizzoli & Isles (2010-16) and Abbie Carmichael on Law & Order (1998-2001) – is back with a new Lifetime project that she executive produces and, of course, stars in. The first in a series, Buried in Barstow centers on Hazel King (Harmon), an ex-assassin who first picked up a gun as a teenager and was in high demand as a professional killer. But her career ended when she unexpectedly became pregnant. Now, she is attempting to get away from her past, running a local diner in her small town and trying to remain on good terms with her adult daughter (Lauren Richards). But as much as she wants a normal life, she soon realizes that it might be impossible to avoid trouble.

Harmon brought this script around town for years to try to find the right home, eventually landing at Lifetime, home of reruns of Rizzoli & Isles. “This is my heart project. I’ve loved this script since I read it and started shopping it around three and a half years ago,” enthused Harmon. “I believed in this from the moment I read it. And so I was just [like] it has to be made; it has to be done. ... I’m really, really excited about it.”

With years of experience acting as a member of law enforcement under her belt, this is the first time Harmon got to take on someone on the opposite side of the law. If there’s one thing she’s comfortable with, though, it’s handling a gun. “Well, being from Texas ... I have no problem with [using a gun]. And to be honest, you know, I think it’s kind of an aspect of my career that just sort of followed me around the entire time. ... At this point, I can break down a crime scene and prosecute a case and win or defend it. Whatever sort of law enforcement you might need – I’m your gal.”

Also starring in the film is Kristoffer Polaha as Elliot, a doctor with a mysterious past who shows up in the diner one day. “He tumbles in like tumbleweed into this diner and gets entangled with Angie’s character Hazel,” Polaha explained. “We don’t really know who he is or where he comes from.” But he immediately has respect for Hazel. “[She] is this character who is so broken, and she’s so damaged, and she doesn’t have love, and she lives in this really rough world, and we see the evidence of that until she has her daughter, and then she becomes this lioness or this mama bear who is willing to at all costs protect the things that she loves.”

The show was filmed in Shelby, North Carolina, which stands in for Barstow. The diner that Hazel owns already existed there in its entirety, from its barbecue pits to real wood paneling all over the walls and even the ceiling. The casino in town also appears as the makeshift setting for scenes taking place in Las Vegas, where a young Hazel is learning her craft as a killer.

Buried in Barstow promises to be a thrilling look at the assassin life and how, as much as Hazel might want to, she can never escape. Plus, viewers who get attached to Hazel and her friends and family will have more to look forward to as subsequent movies in the series are released later on. – Taylor Neumann

THE OLD MAN

Thursdays beginning June 16 on FX
NEW SERIES!

Aging widower Dan Chase lives a quiet life in a small town with his two dogs. For the past few weeks, he's been a little out of sorts, not sleeping well, and feeling anxious and irritable. Fortunately, spending three decades evading the CIA has given him a keen sense of when someone's coming to kill him.

Based on the eponymous novel by Thomas Perry, FX's seven-part thriller The Old Man stars Jeff Bridges as Chase, a former CIA operative who went on the run in 1987 after conducting unauthorized actions against Soviet forces in Afghanistan. Chase and his late wife assumed new identities and tried to live as normal a life as possible, but the shadows of the past have finally caught up with him.

Tasked with tracking down Chase is FBI Assistant Director for Counterintelligence Harold Harper (John Lithgow, pictured left), who has a great personal stake in making sure Chase is silenced and the work they did together in Afghanistan remains buried in secrecy. While Harper employs all the government assets at his disposal, Chase calls on his ingenuity, experience and determination to stay alive.

Bridges faced a real fight for his life when he underwent treatment for lymphoma in the middle of shooting The Old Man. After a 15-month delay in production, Bridges returned, his cancer in remission, and filming resumed. "FX and all of the team were so considerate and, you know, gave me all of the time I needed to heal and all of the support I needed," Bridges says. "And then the protocol for when we were still in COVID, and all that protocol that we had in place made me feel very safe and eager to get down to biz, get down to play."

And get down to biz he does. The 72-year-old Bridges has plenty of fight in him, as Chase has quite a few throwdowns with would-be assassins. "I have always been doomed to fights," Bridges says. "I really enjoyed all of it. It was really terrific."

The Old Man is also a showcase for two venerable actors, Lithgow and Bridges, who've had tremendous success on the screen for decades.

"I didn't get to act with Jeff for a long, long time because the entire story is circumstances have kept these two [characters] apart," Lithgow says. "They were very, very close and very involved in very high stakes and dangerous political and military activity 30 years ago, and they have had to stay apart for various reasons ever since. And the tension of the entire first season is when are these two men finally going to be forced together. ... It was a fantastic moment when I finally got to work with him." — Ryan A. Berenz

3 AFTER JACKIE

Saturday, June 18
on HISTORY

LeBron James and Oscar-nominated/Emmy-winning documentarian Stanley Nelson (Attica, Freedom Riders) are among the executive producers of this two-hour documentary celebrating 75 years since Jackie Robinson broke the color barrier in Major League Baseball by starting at first base for the Brooklyn Dodgers on April 15, 1947. Directed by Andre Gaines (The One and Only Dick Gregory) and produced in association with MLB, After Jackie tells the often overlooked story of the second wave of Black baseball players who fought for racial equality in the sport — and in society as a whole — following Robinson, including Bill White, Curt Flood and Bob Gibson. The film features new and rare interviews with White and Gibson, before his passing in 2020, as well as with former and current baseball players such as C.C. Sabathia, Mookie Betts, Ken Griffey Jr., Joe Torre, Dave Roberts and others. After Jackie is also aided in telling this important story by being able to tap into MLB's expansive media archive chronicling nearly a century of baseball history, including rarely seen footage of Robinson.

DARK WINDS

Sundays beginning June 12 on AMC
NEW SERIES!

For decades, bestselling author Tony Hillerman immersed readers in the thrilling cases of Lt. Joe Leaphorn and Sgt. Jim Chee, two Native American police officers whose differing ideologies and spirituality, at times, challenged the criminal justice system they were sworn to uphold. Robert Redford optioned Hillerman's iconic book series Leaphorn & Chee three decades ago and produced two movies about them. Redford serves as executive producer of the new TV series alongside George R.R. Martin.

The 1970s-set psychological thriller stars Zahn McClarnon (Longmire) as Leaphorn, a Navajo tribal cop who is tasked with solving a grisly double murder while straddling the fence between his job and his culture. His new partner Chee, played by Kiowa Gordon (Roswell), has some scars from his past he's equally challenged by. Rounding out the cast in supporting roles are Noah Emmerich (The Americans) as Special Agent Whitover and Rainn Wilson (The Office) as Devoted Dan.

Wilson's character is definitely a departure from what we're used to seeing. "Well, you do get to see my full exposed torso and a pair of tighty whities, so that is worth the price of admission," Wilson tells. "He's a car dealer, and a double dealer, and a born-again, and a preacher, and wherever there's corruption happening around, you'll find Devoted Dan right in the middle of it."

AMC believes these characters will live right alongside the likes of Don Draper, Walter White, Rick Grimes and others in the AMC Hall of Fame. "It's a thrilling murder mystery that takes place in and around the lands of the Navajo Nation in the Monument Valley, which hasn't been accessed for filming since the days of John Ford," shares Dan McDermott, president of entertainment and AMC Studios. "The series features the rich and vibrant Navajo culture and community in ways it's never been seen before." — Barb Oates

The "supes" include Starlight (Erin Moriarty), Homelander (Antony Starr), A-Train (Jessie T. Usher) and The Deep (Chace Crawford). BECOMING ELIZABETH

Sundays beginning June 12 on STARZ
NEW SERIES!

The story of the majestic Queen Elizabeth I has been told in countless other productions, including films starring Cate Blanchett and, more recently, Margot Robbie. But finding a detailed history of the monarch as a teenager has been a little harder — until now.

Starz's Becoming Elizabeth takes a look at the future ruler's life starting at age 14, something star Alicia von Rittberg calls "a coming-of-age story set in a political drama." It begins right after the death of Elizabeth's father, the imposing Henry VIII, and the ascension of her younger brother Edward (Oliver Zetterström) to king. Also in the mix is older sister Mary (Romola Garai), who along with Elizabeth must maintain good standing in the court in order to remain in line for the throne. Complicating matters is widowed stepmother Catherine Parr's (Jessica Raine) new husband, Thomas Seymour (Tom Cullen), who takes an interest in Elizabeth.

"This story is incredible, and it's really contemporary," explained executive producer George Ormond. "It's about a young, teenage girl who thinks she's an adult, who thinks she's equipped to deal with adult things, and is thrust into this world that's dangerous and finds herself drawn into this relationship, which raises all sorts of questions about consent and power. And we couldn't believe that this hadn't been dramatized before, but it hasn't. And it feels like it's a definitive part of how she becomes who she becomes."

The relationship with Seymour is a touchy one — for one, Elizabeth was a young teenager, with Seymour being an older and married man, and for two, historians believe that the relationship was one-sided, with Elizabeth trying to avoid Seymour's inclinations. The show makes things a little more consensual, but doesn't shy away from showing a complicated dynamic. "This relationship she had with Thomas Seymour seemed to touch on such relevant things now as consent and gender imbalance and power imbalance within relationships," said creator and executive producer Anya Reiss.

The series hints at the queen Elizabeth will become, a defining figure in history and one of the most beloved monarchs in England's past. The public's fascination with the Tudor bloodline shows no signs of subsiding, and Becoming Elizabeth offers a different take on the famous family. — Taylor Neumann

THE AMERICAN PRESIDENCY WITH BILL CLINTON

Mondays beginning May 30 on HISTORY
NEW SERIES!

Former President Bill Clinton hosts and executive produces this six-part hourlong series that explores the history of the American presidency and how presidential action across a wide range of critical moments helped to promote – or delay – the creation of a more perfect union. Each episode takes on a different theme in American history: race, extremism, the struggle for rights, presidential vision, global power and economic might.

The series takes a comprehensive look at decisions that moved our country forward, like President Dwight Eisenhower ordering the 101st Airborne Division into Arkansas to ensure the safety of the Little Rock Nine, President Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and Emancipation Proclamation, and President Lyndon Johnson signing the Voting Rights Act of 1965. It also tackles decisions that further divided our country, like President Herbert Hoover's "repatriation drives" that led to the mass expulsions of Mexican American citizens during the Great Depression and President Franklin Roosevelt's Executive Order 9066, which led to nearly 120,000 Japanese Americans being systematically rounded up and forced into prison camps.

Weighing in on these topics are renowned authors, historians and witnesses to history, including Pulitzer Prize winners Jon Meacham and Annette Gordon Reed, as well as Dr. Douglas Brinkley, Dr. Edna Medford Green, Dr. H.W. Brands and George Takei.

The American Presidency debuts on Memorial Day at a special time following the premiere of History's Theodore Roosevelt miniseries. Beginning June 6, subsequent episodes will air in the series' regular Monday night time slot.

14 THE GREAT AMERICAN RECIPE

Fridays beginning June 24 on PBS

NEW SERIES!

This uplifting and emotional eight-episode cooking competition series celebrates the multiculturalism that makes American food unique and iconic, embarking on a nationwide search for the Great American Recipe.

Hosted by Alejandra Ramos, a chef, food writer, and food and lifestyle contributor for the Today show, and with a judging panel comprised of chefs Leah Cohen, Tiffany Derry and Graham Elliot, The Great American Recipe mixes camaraderie with competition. It welcomes 10 talented home cooks, each of whom brings their distinctive flavor to every new challenge as they go head-to-head with their signature dishes – from show's host and judges. "This is a show that's about love and family and connection," says executive producer Jilly Pearce. "The recipes tell the story of who we are. That was sort of the criteria that we were looking for when we were casting. ... I have never seen casting like this or had the response to casting that I had, and I know everybody else had. There were tears, and I think that speaks to the type of show that we're doing and the people that we're casting that I just don't think you see on other cooking competitions."

"This was a fantastic group," Derry agrees. "You have to have people who not only understand food and are great cooks, but [are] also great storytellers. ... It takes very special people to do what we did."

"Also, at the end of the day, you will be inspired to cook, that's for sure. You will be inspired. If not, you will be inspired to go find food at your local restaurants." – Jeff Pfeiffer

Executive producer Dan Goodman says that gathering the stories of the series' subjects is done documentary-style. "[It's] in their element," he explains. "We're not asking people to come sit in some sterile environment. We are going to them. We are spending a lot of time in their world, where they're comfortable, where they can kind of show us and not even realize they are giving us depth of story."

Among American Anthems' six subjects are a father who started a nonprofit to help families of cancer patients while undergoing cancer treatment himself; a former police officer who founded an organization that supports survivors of sexual abuse after struggling to recover from her own attack; and a young woman whose nonprofit provides free laundry days in low-income areas, and for whom helping others is one way that she manages her bipolar disorder.

"I am always a storyteller," Nettles says. "I am always writing a song, crafting a character, crafting a story. The stories [in American Anthems] are already in the lives of these people. ... These are real stories and the stakes for these stories are high. They are life and death. They are trauma. They are the things that as human beings we are the most moved and touched by.

"There are emotional moments within the show that you share as a human being with a heart and you are hearing these stories that are so touching. There are moments that I remember having those emotional moments of, 'This is such a powerful story, and thank you for sharing it with me, and thank you for trusting me to try to write the most intimate parts of your life.'" – Jeff Pfeiffer

Offering firsthand accounts from the women at the center of the group, many speaking on the record for the first time, The Janes tells the revelatory story of a group of unlikely outlaws. CATCH A Classic!

Special Theme: Follow the Thread: "70s Styles"

TCM, beginning at 8pm

Turner Classic Movies concludes its Saturday night June salute to fashion in the movies with a double feature of iconic films representing notable styles of the 1970s. Up first is the 1975 romantic drama Mahogany, in which Diana Ross plays an aspiring designer who finds fame and fortune in the world of fashion. The actress/singer herself had always been interested in design – she even helped create the wardrobe for the Supremes when she was a member of the group – so she pushed director Berry Gordy to let her create her character's outfits. He hesitated but ultimately relented, and Ross' designs for the film were an immediate sensation. When people think of tonight's second film, Martin Scorsese's Best Picture Oscar-nominated 1976 classic Taxi Driver, there's a good chance that Robert De Niro's Best Actor Oscar-nominated performance as Travis Bickle is the first thing that comes to mind. And, for many people, it might be the costumes. Ruth Morley designed looks for De Niro and Jodie Foster's characters that continue to inspire on fashion runways and in the streets.
