RANDOM RANTS, RAVES & THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW

■ ATTENTION! Your Magazine Was Updated!

We needed to make a few changes to the magazine to address the relentless postal increases that Postmaster General Louis DeJoy continues to challenge the publishing industry with (there were two increases in 2023, and another in January 2024). We've simplified the format of the magazine, and now all the daily TV listings (Sunday through Saturday) cover 8am to midnight. By doing so, we were able to reduce 16 pages, making the publication slightly lighter so we could absorb some of the postal increase. For night owls who enjoy knowing the handful of movies that are airing each night, we've created a special Late-Night Calendar on pages 158 and 159 and have added some extra movie features to the movie description section.

■ Shows & People Who Are Missed

I miss Alaska: The Last Frontier.

Is it coming back, or has it been canceled? Also, whatever happened to Bones star Emily Deschanel? Lastly, is there a chance Cote de Pablo will return to TV? — D. Paul

Lots of good questions, and for that we are sending you a complimentary PUZZLER magazine. Here's what we know. Discovery isn't too helpful on providing any details on Alaska: The Last Frontier since Season 11 ended in November 2022. A few of the Kilcher family members are still active on social media but never respond to the questions. As for Deschanel, she was recently in Netflix's Devil in Ohio, and is set to star in the sci-fi romance ReEntry. NCIS' de Pablo, who starred as Ziva, has really been out of the spotlight. We reached out to her publicist on what's in the works for her but got no response.

smarter and are using the names of family and friends we associate with, which is making it even harder to tell what a legitimate email is. For example, an email may say it is from someone you know, but when you look at the actual email address in a reply message, it's not legitimate. We asked Google for some best practices on how to avoid phishing emails and protect yourself from being scammed, and here are a few tips they shared. (There are plenty more if you go to Google's "Help Center.")

▪ Make sure the message is authentic: Find out if the message is authentic by contacting your friend, family member or colleague directly. Use the contact info you normally use to communicate with them (not the suspected email or text message).

▪ Be careful what you click on in messages: Don't click links, download files or enter personal info in emails, messages, webpages or pop-ups from untrustworthy or unknown providers.

▪ Never respond to requests for private information: For example, protect personal and financial information including usernames and passwords, password changes, Social Security or government identification numbers, bank account numbers, PINs (Personal Identification Numbers), credit card numbers, your birthday, and other private information, like your mother's maiden name.

▪ Don't enter your password after clicking a link in a message: If you're signed into an account, emails from Google won't ask you to enter the password for that account. If you click a link and are asked to enter the password for your Gmail, your Google Account, or another service, don't enter your information; go directly to the website you want to use.

Three's Company characters Stanley and Helen Roper (Norman Fell and Audra Lindley) left that popular sitcom near the end of its third season to headline this spinoff that was not nearly as successful. It ran for just 28 episodes on ABC, from March 13, 1979-May 15, 1980.

FUTURAMA

The initial run of Matt Groening's animated sci-fi comedy was from March 28, 1999-Aug. 10, 2003, on FOX. It was revived for a March 23, 2008-Sept. 4, 2013, stint on Comedy Central, and yet again for its current incarnation on Hulu, which began July 24, 2023.

"BARBIE" & "OPPENHEIMER" CLASH AGAIN AT THE 96TH OSCARS

After the dust settled following last summer's "Barbenheimer" battle between the hotly anticipated feature films Barbie and Oppenheimer, Barbie won the box office by a large margin, and in fact was the highest-grossing movie of 2023.

But when it comes to this year's Oscar nominations, Oppenheimer is on top, leading the field with 13, including Best Picture, Best Director (Christopher Nolan) and Best Actor (Cillian Murphy). Barbie has a very respectable eight nominations, including Best Picture, Best Supporting Actor (Ryan Gosling) and Best Original Song ("I'm Just Ken" and "What Was I Made For?"), but noticeably absent among its nods are Barbie herself, star Margot Robbie, and director Greta Gerwig (who does share a Best Adapted Screenplay nomination with Noah Baumbach).

Just behind Oppenheimer are Poor Things, with 11 nominations, including Best Picture and Best Actress (Emma Stone), and Killers of the Flower Moon, with 10, including Best Picture and Best Director (Martin Scorsese).

We'll find out who wins these and all the other categories when the 96th Oscars airs the evening of Sunday, March 10. ABC will again broadcast the ceremony live; Jimmy Kimmel returns for his fourth stint as host. — Jeff Pfeiffer

STATE OF THE UNION

5 QUESTIONS WITH "WILL TRENT'S" ERIKA CHRISTENSEN

By Zhanna Slor

If you find yourself in trouble, Angie Polaski of ABC's Will Trent (Tuesdays) is definitely the detective you want on your case. Well, if she's sober. A complex character who is great at her job but can never quite move on from her traumatic past, Polaski — played by Erika Christensen — is a bit of a wild card, as well as GBI agent Will Trent's on-again, off-again girlfriend. Like the show, she is based on a character from Karin Slaughter's series of Will Trent novels, though she is quite different on the page than onscreen. We recently sat down with Erika so she could answer our "5 Questions."

1 What can you tell us about the new season of Will Trent? A lot of groundwork was laid last season for delving into the backgrounds of these characters as much as their futures. What I love about the writers on our show is that they don't tend to miss an opportunity to pay something off that they've set up. There are a lot of supporting characters that we met in previous episodes that are still a part of the world that we live in, as well as some great new characters. It just feels real and exciting and cohesive to keep these characters around and not have them be forgotten.

2 How do you feel about Angie, as a character? I just see her as this woman reborn. She's strong and independent and doing what she wants to do with her life, and she comes from a place of a lot of trauma, and I just respect her. Ramón [Rodríguez] and I were already friends, and we go way back. When I first read the script, I thought the characters were fantastic and the dialogue was fantastic, and it felt like something really elevated. I was like, oh, yes, Angie and I are right for each other right now at this moment in my life. But I felt that connection with her where she is tough in a way that doesn't require that she's really got to prove it to you. She's just kind of doing her thing and she's confident.

3 Do you stay in touch with your costars from Parenthood? I do. I'm definitely closest with Sam Jaeger, and, in fact, I'm going to call him when I get off the phone with you.

4 What are your favorite shows to watch? Right now, I'm watching True Detective and the new season of Fargo. Then when I'm done with those, I'm going to go and finish Only Murders in the Building, which is so great. It's got its own niche. I really love what they've done there.

5 In an alternate world, if you weren't an actress, what kind of job do you see yourself doing? Now that I know what it's like working in the entertainment industry, I would work in the entertainment industry. I would like to be either a writer or a singer; I had musical aspirations at one time.

The UMBC Retrievers shocked everyone in the 2018 NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament by being the first No. 16 seed to knock out a No. 1 when they beat Virginia 74-54 in the first round. Lightning struck again when the No. 16 Fairleigh Dickinson Knights slew No. 1 Purdue 63-58 last year. No one is safe, and that's why they call it March Madness.

Tristen Newton and the reigning national champion UConn Huskies are eyeing a No. 1 seed in this year's tournament. They'll try to buck the six-year trend of defending champs failing to reach the Sweet 16. Other squads vying for prime spots in the bracket include Purdue, North Carolina, Houston, Tennessee, Kentucky, Kansas, Auburn and Arizona.

The field is announced March 17 on CBS and play begins March 19-20 with the First Four from Dayton, Ohio, on truTV. This year's Sweet 16 and Elite 8 regionals take place March 28-31 in Boston (East), Dallas (South), Detroit (Midwest) and Los Angeles (West). The Final Four is April 6 and the championship game is April 8 at State Farm Stadium in Glendale, Arizona. All 67 tournament games are nationally televised across CBS, TBS, TNT and truTV, and stream on the NCAA March Madness Live app.

TO WATCH
THIS MONTH

PARISH

1 PARISH

Sundays beginning March 31 on AMC
NEW SERIES!

TV fans will forever be indebted to Giancarlo Esposito for creating one of the most unassuming, chilling villains in TV history for his role as Gus Fring on Breaking Bad and its prequel Better Call Saul, both ratings juggernauts for AMC. His latest role has been an eight-year journey in the making where he returns to AMC as another memorable character, this time as Gracian "Gray" Parish in the high-octane crime thriller Parish.

The six-episode series is based on the U.K. series The Driver and tells the story of an everyman who, after his son is violently murdered, encounters an old friend (Skeet Ulrich) and returns to old habits from his past criminal life.

"The original show The Driver by Danny Brocklehurst was very moving to me, but I wanted to create something a little more soulful," Esposito tells. "I was driven and guided by a lot of my own personal reflection on my life, and I knew that I wanted to make a show about an everyman who was faced with incredible possibilities that just weren't working out. Dream deferred, someone who was just busted and broken, and that everyman who has to somehow rise to become an extraordinary man. So, from my particular background, having a marriage that failed, four beautiful daughters and not being able to provide for them and going bankrupt was all kind of the fodder for my thoughts and feelings surrounding, infusing Parish with that kind of predicament, dilemma and heartbreaking situation."

You absolutely feel for Parish — the heartbreak he endures with losing a child, the frustrations of trying to keep your business afloat amid industry change, and the commitment to provide for your family both emotionally and financially when nothing is going your way. Your stomach also turns, and you cringe over some of the decisions he makes. Here Esposito shares more on the riveting drama set and filmed in New Orleans.

On eight years in the making: "It got good through the struggle of it. It got good through the sweat and blood of it. It got good through me respecting that a network who I've worked with, who loves me and respects me, and thinks I'm the cat's meow, have them understand that I respected their investment in this. I wanted to tell the story of an everyman walking down the street. Now this guy's a little bit different because he had certain means that he loses, but it's the same story of what could have been."

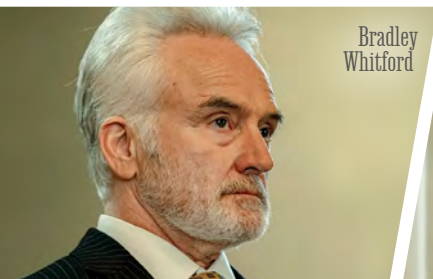

On those choices his character makes: "I think it's in line with what people need right now. I'm tired of being a passenger in my own life. That's strong stuff. That means you got to stand up and change it and make it different. Now for Gracian Parish, he took the gig and then he saw behind the veil and then he went, 'Oh, oops. What did I do? Uh-oh.' And I love this story for those reasons. He's got to fight his way out and it may take a long time and he's got to do some things that might be, more than likely will be, reprehensible for him to get out."

On believing intentions are everything: "What I, like, love about Gracian Parish is he makes mistakes and people do make mistakes. We're bound to, but can we live with ourselves and those mistakes, and, more importantly, make the correction? Can we make the correction? That's important."

On his costar Bradley Whitford being friend or foe: "I have to say it's tricky and intricate, and it's something that we came upon that I thought was really important because it's the skeleton and the ghosts of the past. It's something that drives the wedge in between Gray and his wife [Ray Donovan's Paula Malcomson] and child [Mixed-ish's Arica Himmel] because they had no clue."

On his old buddy Bryan Cranston: "I adore Bryan Cranston and I've been recently in touch on a number of different levels with him. ... I had dinner with him because he was down in New Orleans shooting Your Honor. And it turns out that my stunt coordinator, Andy, was his stunt double on Your Honor and coordinator. So not only did he share a bunch of places to eat with me, but we also shared Andy, who turned out to be just an incredible stuntman."

And speaking of those insane driving scenes: "We have narrow corridors of streets in the French Quarter ... I had to do backwards, reverse 360, I had to slide the car, stop the car, break the car on a dime with people around me in the street. ... That's all me in the Porsche Macan and the Cadillac. It takes a lot of focus and attention — you have to be really clear to do that kind of work because you're going at a certain rate of speed that it's important to know what you're doing as anything can happen." — Barb Oates

NEW SERIES!

Kate Winslet has inhabited one fascinating character after another, a successful run that continues in this six-episode limited series from Succession scribe Will Tracy. As fierce Elena Vernham, she's the chancellor of an (unnamed) Central European country in turmoil. Tune in to see ...

A MASTERFUL PERFORMANCE Tracy credits Winslet with shaping her formidable character. "Kate knew [Elena] would need to be not only hugely charismatic but also somehow bizarrely 'off,'" he says. "Kate captures that beautifully." We also can't wait to see turns from Hugh Grant and Martha Plimpton.

DRAMATIC MARITAL MESSINESS As the show tracks a year in Elena's life, we witness her "seriocomic nightmare" of a marriage to Nicholas (Guillaume Gallienne). Explains Tracy: "They have no children. They are, in a sense, each other's children."

NEW THREE-PART DRAMA!

"She wasn't easy, she didn't suffer fools, so I can see she might have put people's backs up," says Helena Bonham Carter of British soap star Noelle "Nolly" Gordon, her bold character in this true-life, three-part drama from Russell T Davies (Doctor Who). It takes place around the tumultuous time that Gordon, who played red-haired widow Meg Richardson on the long-running Crossroads from 1964 to 1981, was fired with no explanation at the height of the show's success and her own fame. The actress' response? The night her last episode aired, she appeared on a talk show for an unflinching interview. Says Bonham Carter, "I hope it inspires the Nolly within all of us — somebody who won't go quietly." — Kate Hahn

QUEENSMondays beginning March 4 on NAT GEO
NEW SERIES!

All hail the queens! Oscar-nominated actress Angela Bassett narrates this exciting new seven-part documentary series focused on female leaders among the animal kingdoms. All told from a female perspective, and helmed by a female-led production team, Queens highlights the sacrifices and challenges various matriarchs of different species must endure for the survival of their families, as well as their resilience, intelligence and ability to love those around them. "In Queens, females drive the story," shares Vanessa Berlowitz, an executive producer. "The most accomplished women in the industry get behind the camera to turn things on their heads, revealing surprising insights into how females rise to power, often relying on cooperation and wisdom over brute strength to get ahead." The sisterhoods of six distinct animal communities — hyenas, elephants, ring-tailed lemurs, insects, primates and killer whales — are shared. Using cutting-edge technology to film close-ups of various female-led tribes — every episode focuses on a different area of the world, from the deserts of Africa to the middle of the rainforest — the series will give nature-hungry viewers a realistic and personal look into the daily life of nature's "queens." — Zhanna Slor

5 HUNTING HOUSEWIVES

Saturday, March 9 on LIFETIME
ORIGINAL FILM!

A group of uber-pampered housewives take off for a much-anticipated spa weekend — no kids, no husbands, no schedule, just looking forward to plenty of drinks and relaxation — but instead find themselves stranded in the woods. With no basic survival skills, the housewives are left to use their wits (and whatever is in their designer bags) to survive the rugged wilds. When they realize they are not alone, the ladies must align to outwit their hunters.

No stranger to playing Real Housewives, NeNe Leakes (The Real Housewives of Atlanta) and Denise Richards (The Real Housewives of Beverly Hills) lead the cast along with Kym

Johnson Herjavec and Melyssa Ford. “I think there is a perception of our characters that we are high maintenance and aren’t self-sufficient,” Richards shares. “But we are strong women, and the audience will see what we are made of!”

In real life, while Richards shares that she would have nothing in her handbag to help with a survival situation, what she would excel at is keeping everyone calm and being resourceful in finding things that were needed. “I also think I would be good at starting a fire, as I have started many in a wood burning fireplace and it’s not as easy as it looks.” There’s plenty of laughs, drama and action in this entertaining comedy adventure.

NEW SERIES!

This new true-crime docuseries explores the dark side of fame and beauty, including the tragedies that can often derail young women in pursuit of it. Beginning with the story of fitness influencer and OnlyFans model Courtney Clenney, who was charged with the violent murder of her boyfriend in 2022 after their troubled relationship reached a horrifying crescendo in her Miami luxury condo, the limited six-episode series will include various femmes fatales who found themselves in over their heads. In addition to the Clenney case, for which Clenney is currently in prison awaiting trial, it also covers fellow femmes fatales Lauren Wambles, an adult film actress who ended up involved in drug trafficking, and exotic dancer and escort Crystal Mangum, who rose to infamy after making false accusations against the men’s lacrosse team at Duke, as well as victims Marjorie Lee Thoreson, a young runaway, and Kimberly Pandelios, an aspiring model who disappeared after a photo shoot.

PHOTOGRAPHER

Mondays beginning March 18 on NAT GEO
NEW SERIES!

This stunning new docuseries takes nature lovers on a journey with some of the most renowned and iconic photographers as they document the world's most beautiful scenes, people and animals, while including their own personal backstories and how they first fell in love with photography. Through interviews and footage of their current photographic missions, such as capturing sea life in the Bahamas or snapping portraits of children at refugee camps, viewers will gain a deeper understanding of what it takes to succeed in this inspiring profession.

"A lot of people have already given up. Why care if everything is doomed?" says Cristina Mittermeier, one half of the photographer duo featured in the episode titled "Win or Die," who met in the National Geographic cafeteria and have been together ever since. "We still live in a beautiful planet. I want to be an ambassador for nature. For all of us. Our hope is to take this boat around the world and tell the stories that need to be told everywhere."

But the job has its downsides too, such as occasionally being alone and defenseless among wild animals. "I was very close to being killed by an 8,000-pound breeding elephant seal. I hadn't realized he was breeding all day, and I swam up to him to take his picture and he turned on me," said Paul Nicklen, the other half of the photographic power couple.

"He has a very different threshold for fear than I do," Mittermeier added. "So, he is able to tolerate more risk than I am."

As the saying goes, though: no risk, no reward! For those of us who would rather watch sharks from the comfort of our own living rooms, this show will not disappoint. — Zhanna Slor

LAST CHANCE GARAGE

Wednesdays beginning
March 20 on MOTORTREND

NEW SERIES!

Cars have been at the center of Tony D'Antonio's life since he was a kid. The Philadelphia-raised mechanic and car restoration expert was a sponge as a child soaking up everything from his father, who ran an automotive repair shop, and his grandfather, who was into restoring cars.

"I was really little when my grandfather restored a 1930 Model A, but my grandfather drove everywhere in that 1930 Model A and he took me with him," Tony shares. His grandfather passed away when Tony was just 17, but that passion his grandfather sparked lives on today. Now Tony owns D'Antonio Automotive, and his garage and staff are the subjects of the new series Last Chance Garage, where Tony and his crew take viewers through botched restoration jobs (showing all the nitty-gritty details on these sloppy jobs) and the unique stories behind each car and owner as they transform the vehicle to its intended state.

"People come to me to have their vehicle rebuilt — to chase the memories, the best moments of their lives. I'm helping them relive the happiest moments of their lives through a vehicle," Tony says. The show is basically Botched for cars. "[Like the plastic surgery series,] we go in and make sure that everything works perfectly, the way it should have worked the first time. It's just sad to know that I was able to build a show and business almost entirely based on fixing botched cars. Insanity."

In between a lot of underbody car rot and the technicalities on getting things fixed is a fun chemistry among the crew. Tony's father is also a big part of the show but don't expect any type of explosive fighting between these two (a la American Chopper). "I'm not going to fight my dad on camera. That's just not going to happen. That's not what we do," Tony adds. "I'm 34 and my dad will still kick my butt. What you guys see on camera is exactly who we are." — Barb Oates

10 GREY'S ANATOMY

Thursdays beginning March 14 on ABC
SEASON PREMIERE!

Following some epic cliffhangers and a long wait for answers, one of the longest-running modern series on television, centering around the personal and professional lives of the medical staff of Seattle's Grey Sloan Memorial Hospital, returns with a new season this spring — its 20th. So what can we expect with this momentous season of the medical procedural? Well, all we can say is: Be ready for more drama.

"It was so dramatic with what was happening with the interns and what was happening with Teddy, and I think that the writers have done such a great job at really engaging with the giant cliffhanger and kind of playing with that," says Kim Raver, who plays Dr. Teddy Altman. "There's some great stuff there. I can't tell you who might be coming back this season, but it's exciting."

Raver, who has been playing the cardiothoracic surgeon on and off since 2009, loves the progression of her character over the last 14 seasons and is excited for more. "What's so great about doing episodic television is playing Teddy, over so many years, is this incredible peeling back of the layers of an onion that's just sort of surprising each time," Raver adds. "She just feels like such a fuller human being right now, especially her coming into being chief."

Whatever is in store for Dr. Altman and the rest of the staff of Grey Sloan Memorial, fans will surely be happy to have it back on air after the last shocking finale, which aired back in May and showed Dr. Altman passed out on the floor and being resuscitated by husband Dr. Owen Hunt (Kevin McKidd).

15 SPERMWORLD

Friday, March 29 on FX

There is a national sperm shortage. The demand for donated sperm has increased, while the number of men willing to become donors has not. The often prohibitive cost of fertility services and commercial sperm banks has led to an online marketplace that cuts out the middle man. Inspired by journalist Nellie Bowles' article in The New York Times, director Lance Oppenheim's feature-length documentary Spermworld explores what he calls an "online, unregulated sperm universe" often involving "strangers meeting to produce life in lonely places: strip malls at night, empty parking lots." While that might sound seedy, the film reveals how attitudes about parenthood, family and human connection have evolved in an increasingly alienating society. "I wanted to make a film that touched on modern loneliness and the quest to solve that feeling through the internet, altruism and reproduction," Oppenheim says. — Ryan A. Berenz

Giannis: The Marvelous Journey

Available Now

When the Milwaukee Bucks selected Giannis Antetokounmpo in the first round of the 2013 NBA Draft, fans knew little about the teenager from Greece, and he knew almost nothing about life as an NBA rookie in the States. Antetokounmpo recalls how he was going to bring his workout clothes home to wash when he was told he could leave them at the practice facility. "I can wash the clothes here?" he asked. "No, Giannis, we wash the clothes here," it was explained. "I said, 'You wash the clothes for me?' They said, 'Yes, you come tomorrow, the clothes will be washed.' I said, 'Oh, OK. I love the NBA!'" There's also the time in November 2013 when fans recognized him as he was running to the arena (he didn't have cab fare) and offered him a car ride. "It was a funny story," Antetokounmpo tells us in an interview. "I am thankful to this day that they were able to give me a ride so I wasn't late to the game. I think they saved me from pneumonia. It was extremely cold. It was probably one of the worst winters Milwaukee had." More than 10 years later, the "Greek Freak" is a two-time MVP, an NBA champion and a father of three. This feature-length documentary looks at Antetokounmpo, his family, his basketball career, and how he overcame poverty and xenophobia to become a global superstar. — Ryan A. Berenz

Available March 20 (First 3 Episodes); New Episodes Wednesdays

"Everybody has a chance to score," says an awestruck Carol Burnett of working among a heavy-hitting cast of scene-stealers — the famous faces include Kristen Wiig, Allison Janney, Ricky Martin and Laura Dern — in this raucous series about life at a swanky

Palm Beach, Florida, country club in 1969. However, the icon could also be talking about the many ambitious (and duplicitous) characters that populate the show. The 10 episodes begin with Wiig's penniless Maxine Simmons, who will cross any line to become a part of the Palm Beach elite. She sneaks into the Palm Royale, where she meets snooty Evelyn Rollins (Janney), the de facto ruler of the club's wealthy lady clique.

The real queen bee is Burnett's Norma Dellacorte. "Most of the people in that society, they're afraid of her because she has a lot of secrets on them," the six-time Emmy winner explains. "She's not a very nice person." — Jim Halterman

The Girls on the Bus

Available Thursdays Beginning March 14

This 10-episode dramedy chronicles the fast-paced, messy and often hilarious lives of fictional female journalists reporting on the Democratic primary. "It's about the kind of friendship that you never knew you needed but you can't live without," says cocreator Amy Chozick, whose career as a political journo covering prominent figures like Hillary Clinton, Kamala Harris and Elizabeth Warren inspired the series. Supergirl's Melissa Benoist stars as idealistic reporter Sadie McCarthy. "She's an old soul," Chozick explains. "She romanticizes an era of journalism that kind of doesn't exist anymore ... when you could write in your own voice and have a huge impact."

The show's politicians are amalgams of candidates Chozick met on the road, as are the journalists who round out the cast: "old-school, get-the-scoop-out" veteran Grace (Carla Gugino); conservative Fox Newsesque reporter Kimberlyn (Christina Elmore); and young social media influencer Lola (Natasha Behnam). The women don't have much in common, but they become close. — Dylan Ford

The Day the Earth Stood Still

MOVIES!, 11:05am

[CATCH A CLASSIC!]

Robert Wise directed this 1951 sci-fi classic that finds an alien named Klaatu (Michael Rennie) and his robot, Gort (Lock Martin), landing on Earth to warn the planet's inhabitants to abandon their atomic weapons and aggression, and live peacefully with the other residents of the cosmos, or be destroyed. The film was groundbreaking and influential not only in its theme (humanity positioned as the greater threat to the universe, not some invading aliens), but also in composer Bernard Herrmann's musical score, which featured one of the earliest cinematic uses of the theremin; that eerie-sounding instrument would soon become an almost-overused staple in other films of the spacey or spooky variety.

[CATCH A CLASSIC!]

Nearly every year since 1973, with a few exceptions, ABC has re-aired this gigantic 1956 Best Picture Oscar-nominated religious epic on or around Easter — even though it relates more to the Passover holiday, given that its story comes from the Old Testament book of Exodus about Moses' (Charlton Heston) deliverance of the Israelites from slavery at the hands of Egyptian pharaoh Rameses II (Yul Brynner). That tradition continues this year, as the network airs director Cecil B. DeMille's thrilling achievement the night before Easter.

Easter Classics

TCM, beginning at 6:15am

MOVIES!, beginning at 12pm

[CATCH A CLASSIC!]

Happy Easter! To help you celebrate, Turner Classic Movies and MOVIES! have lineups of films representing both themes of faith and general springtime happiness. TCM's day begins earlier, with The Green Pastures (1936), which depicts various Bible stories as visualized by Black characters. After that is The Miracle of Our Lady of Fatima (1952), billed as a fact-based look at the apparitions of Our Lady of Fatima reported in 1917 Portugal. After a break to re-air last night's Noir Alley title (1954's Pushover), the Easter celebration continues with Godspell (1973), which is based on the 1971 off-Broadway musical and enacts various parables from the Gospel of Matthew. Next, Max von Sydow portrays Jesus Christ in The Greatest Story Ever Told (1965), the religious epic also featuring Dorothy McGuire, Charlton Heston and Claude Rains among its large ensemble cast. Following that is another famous biblical epic: the Best Picture Oscar-nominated The Robe (1953), led by Best Actor nominee Richard Burton. Moving into primetime, the lineup features Easter Parade (1948). TCM's Easter lineup concludes with King of Kings (1961), which tells the story of Jesus (portrayed by Jeffrey Hunter). MOVIES! celebrates the holiday with two epic religious miniseries. First is Jesus of Nazareth (1977), an eight-hour production that originally aired on NBC in the U.S. (MOVIES! is showing it in two four-hour parts.) Directed by Franco Zeffirelli, the British/Italian coproduction dramatizes the life of Christ (Robert Powell) by blending elements from all four Gospel accounts. After that is the 1974 British miniseries Moses the Lawgiver. The six-part drama tells the story of Exodus, led by Burt Lancaster as Moses and Anthony Quayle as Aaron.
